Tells Of Jumping Behind Jap Line

1st Lt. Arthur T. Cartier, son of Asst. U.S. Atty. and Mrs. Arthur J. B. Cartier of 1659 Washington st., West Newton, a paratrooper officer who participated in the landing behind the Jap forces at Lae, New Guinea, has written the following letter to his parents describing the action:

"I expected to be quite afraid before hopping out, but was surprised at myself. We had jitters for a while after the realization of our work. But when it came time to leap, I've never been so cool in all my life. It was very thrilling and exciting to have my good friend shake my hand and say, 'Okay, Art—go.'"

"I was number one in the second plane. I remember distinctly saying to myself, 'I hope Jim doesn't get hurt on this one' as I cleared the door. The descent was quite rapid due to the low altitude and also just like all the others, with the exception that I wiggled and swung myself as much as possible to offer a poor target as I was closest to the enemy.

"When I hit the ground, the machine-gun fire and bombing were terrific. From then until a half-hour later, it was every man for himself. By then I had assembled my platoon—the first to be so, by the way—and I took off in the lead.

"It was easy from there in. We remained in action for two weeks; covered over 100 miles in short 10 to 20-mile forced marches a day in blazing heat. We cut off the Japs, took the best they had to offer and slapped them silly. We moved so fast we disorganized them badly and were able to kill a very large number of them.

"It was like a game of cops and robbers. We had a distinct advantage over the Japs for several reasons—our training and our organization and tactics."

Mayor Thanks All For Parties

November 2, 1943
To the Citizens of Newton:

I want to sincerely thank the people and the various organizations in Newton for the help and cooperation given so wholeheartedly in connection with the Hal-lowe'en parties last Saturday evening. These parties were even more successful than in previous years, and consequently of greater benefit to the community.

The response of our younger citizens fully justified all the effort required. This should give us all great satisfaction in addition to the fun we had on that evening.

PAUL M. GODDARD.

MANY APPLY FOR RATION BOOK 4

Despite the inclement weather the early part of last week, the registration for War Ration Book No. 4 was carried through most satisfactorily, the applicants having adhered in most cases to the alphabetical schedule which made the work much easier for the teachers who assisted in issuing the books.

The entire registration in the city for the three days was 68,607. This was a drop of 2373 from the registration for Book No. 2. Part of this difference may be attributed to deaths or delay by parents in securing books for newborn infants, but the greater part of it is thought to be because a large number of residents have since entered the service.

JEANNE KIMBALL

At the weekly concert to be held on Monday evening, Nov. 8, in the Waltham Public Library, the soloist will be Jeanne Kimball, the former Jeanne Bachrach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Fabian Bachrach of West Newton. Mrs. Kimball will be accompanied by Frances Madsen, who will also have a part in the program. Mrs. Kimball has given two recitals in Jordan Hall and has been presented as a soloist in many other New England cities. She is the wife of Frederic P. Kimball, formerly of Dedham, who is now in business in New York where Mrs. Kimball and their two daughters will join him next week.

DR. HERBERT GEZORK IS SPEAKER AT DINNER

Newton Quota Is $302,800

Two thousand volunteers in the Residential Division of the Newton Community Chest start tomorrow their solicitation with $302,800 the Newton goal for the 1944 Greater Boston United War Fund, following the Opening Dinner of this division, which will be held tonight at the Newton High School at 6:30 p.m.

The Advance Gifts, Manufacturing, Mercantile, and Municipal Divisions have already started their solicitation, and Lawrence B. Damon, Chairman of the Residential Division, has adopted the slogan, "Let's Put Newton Over the Top by November 8."

At the opening Dinner there will be over 1200 citizens of Newton who are in the volunteer army that will call upon every manufacturer, store, employee, and resident to give all, who either work or live in Newton, the opportunity to make a pledge to the 1944 Fund, which includes the 16 local health and social agencies, 248 additional Greater Boston agencies, and the National War Fund which embraces the USO, United Seaman's Service, War Prisoners Aid, and 14 foreign relief groups.

Dr. Herbert Gezork, Assistant Professor at Wellesley College and Andover Newton Theological School, will be the principal speaker of the evening. Dr. Gezork, who spoke at the 1943 Advance Gifts dinner in Newton, was such an outstanding success on that occasion that the Committee of Arrangements decided many months ago to request him to address this meeting. He has selected as his subject, "Because We Care," which ties into the campaign slogan, "Give Because You Care."

Charles B. Floyd, Campaign Chairman in Newton, will preside at the meeting and will introduce

TO ALL WHO CALL NEWTON—HOME!

We, the people of Newton, have a job to do.
The 1944 Newton Community Chest Campaign opens on November 4. A friend and neighbor—one of more than two thousand volunteer workers—will call to ask for contributions to this most important cause. The need for really liberal giving was never more urgent.

The work done by the Newton Community Chest plays a vital part in making our city one of the most desirable, highly respected residential communities in the United States. It is up to all of us to keep it so.

The people of Newton are asked to give at least $302,800 to the 1944 Campaign. More than 70% of this money goes to support the member agencies of the Greater Boston Community Fund. These include the sixteen local agencies that are dependent, in part or in whole, upon the Newton Chest. The rest goes to the National War Fund.

The Newton Community Chest makes but this one appeal a year. Now, and only now, can the funds necessary for 1944 be raised.

To you, and me, and all of us who are privileged to call Newton HOME, this appeal should be both a responsibility and a challenge. It is squarely up to us who take pride in Newton to make sure that Newton can be proud of us.

Let's GIVE—and give because we care!
Sincerely yours,
Charles B. Floyd

POWER FOR VICTORY

...and Thereafter

Boston Edison's new generating station at Everett. Ground broken, August 1941. Station in service, November 1943. Jackson & Moreland, Supervising Engineers. Thomas O'Connor & Co., Inc., General Contractors.

BOSTON EDISON COMPANY'S new generating station, located on the Mystic River in Everett, is now in service.

Its completion increases the generating capacity of Boston Edison Company by 50,000 Kilowatts. But it does more than that. It strengthens all New England for the job that still lies ahead—the fashioning of more weapons of war for the victory our armed forces are now winning. Greater Boston is the immediate beneficiary of this new resource, but through interconnected power lines these 50,000 Kilowatts become a regional asset as well. For electric power is vital, and all our activities on the home-front depend upon a continuous and adequate supply.

Original plans for this station were for two units aggregating 100,000 Kilowatts. Priorities for the second unit were revoked in 1942, because another part of the country needed the capacity more than New England, and these priorities have not yet been reissued. Foundations for the building and the second unit have been completed, and if clearance is received for resumption of work on the second unit, the Company will be in an even better position to meet future increases in power requirements.

Power stations cannot be built overnight. They must be planned years ahead and the planners must anticipate all kinds of conditions. The completion of the first unit at Everett is a continuation of a Boston Edison expansion policy which began in 1937 and has made available for the war-time electrical needs of this region nearly 150,000 Kilowatts of additional generating capacity. This Company's ability to meet all demands has been never too little, never too late.

CHARLES RIVER COUNTRY CLUB

At the annual meeting of Charles River Country Club the following officers were elected:

President, Harry H. Kay; Vice President, Ralph E. Jones; Treasurer, David B. Galloway; Secretary, Francis S. King.

Elected to the Board of Directors to serve three years: Alex J. Jardine, William W. Russell, and Harold C. Manson.

As an evidence of their high esteem for the Retiring President Harold T. Lindsay, Jr., the members of the Club presented him with a large silver tray.

Charles River is one of the few golf courses in this section which has watered fairways and because of this it is easy to keep in splendid playing condition. The course has been well patronized throughout the golfing season and the reports read at the annual meeting indicated the year had been a most successful one.

NEWTON WORKROOM HEADS TO MEET

Mrs. Charles E. Spencer, Jr., chairman of Surgical Dressings for the Newton Red Cross, is calling a meeting of all her workroom chairmen and the lady in charge of packing dressings in each workroom. This meeting will take place at the Chapter House on Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 16.

At that time, Mrs. Ernest V. Alley and Mrs. Albert B. Hinkle, Surgical Dressings Instructors for Newton, will demonstrate to the volunteers the most recent packing regulations authorized by National Red Cross.

It is most important that these new instructions be carried out, and Mrs. Spencer is urging a 100 per cent attendance at the meeting.

POLITICS WITH COLOR

By P. W. C.

Election Results

Despite all the last-minute advertising and telephoning a measly 16.4 per cent of the total registered vote in Newton took the time and trouble to go to the polls last Tuesday. Compared to 21,821 votes in 1939 and 23,505 votes in 1941, our current vote of 5,890 is pathetic. On a percentage basis the figures read: 1939—59%, 1941—62% and 1943—16.4%. As a matter of fact, the outlook prior to election was so gloomy that Governor Saltonstall issued a state-wide appeal for a decent turn-out of voters. In a few cities which were electing a Mayor, about 50% of the voters showed up. In Newton, however, experience has shown us that our citizens simply refuse to bother with elections UNLESS there is a contest for Mayor. Furthermore, it must be a good contest between two men of relatively equal caliber.

Mayor Paul M. Goddard was given a flattering endorsement, receiving 5,277 votes. There were seven scattered votes, of which three were for former Mayor Edwin O. Childs. The blanks totalled 606.

In the city-wide contest in Ward 5 between Alderman Bauckman, Sidney H. Baylor and Robert S. Fifield, the result was about what we all anticipated. It has been obvious all along that Fifield's only chance was in a very tight vote. He could not expect to compete against the impressive list of endorsers which Donald D. McKay had secured in every ward. Furthermore, it is my humble opinion that the flyer which was circulated in the closing days of the campaign probably hurt Fifield more than it helped him. The signature on the flyer which I received was that of a gentleman I do not recall having met, but a check-up indicates that the actual author was an exceedingly prominent public servant who has never been a political bed-fellow of former Alderman McKay. Now whether or not one agrees with Donald McKay's political technique, it must be said, in fairness to the Ward 5 leader, that he has a long record of faithful public and community service. Consequently, a circular which carries a none too subtle slur against him may prove to be a boomerang. However, Fifield made a very good showing and should not be discouraged. Many a fine man has gone down to defeat in his first attempt to win office. Let me remember that Alderman Wendell R. Bauckman was defeated when he first ran for the Board of Aldermen a few short years ago.

I congratulate the two winners in this contest and trust that the new man, Sidney H. Baylor, will get away to a flying start. If his capabilities even approximate those of his distinguished Father, who chances to be a very good friend of your columnist, he should make his mark on the Board.

May I also congratulate the other winners in the Aldermanic contests, Aldermen John E. Barwise, Donald L. Gibbs, Albert P. Everts, Charles P. Slocum, Henderson Inches, Joseph B. Jamieson, Warner Eustis and Frank P. Scofield. Except for the Ward 1 Aldermen, who won by substantially two to one, the contests were pathetically one-sided. Frankly, I find it difficult to understand why it is that certain chronic office-seekers persist in running for something practically every year.

There is another point which I wish to stress right now. When the new Board takes office on January 1 there will be only twelve men sworn in who were sitting on the Board a short two years ago. We have already lost Messrs. Fahey, Schipper, Gaddis, Whitmore, Rawson, Eaton and Cronin and we are about to lose—after New Year's—two veteran members of the Board, Charles B. Floyd of Ward 4 and John Temperley of Ward 5. These two men are retiring voluntarily. Furthermore, not all of the twelve sitting Aldermen have been in office for a prolonged period. There are quite a few relative newcomers. Newton cannot afford to have too many a turnover in its city government. One of the chief reasons for our solid, substantial record as a remarkably well-governed community has been our ability to attract a very high type of citizen to service on the Board of Aldermen or the School Committee. Men of outstanding ability have, for many, many years, been willing to serve three or four terms, at the very least. The result has been a continuity in policy and the building up of a smooth-working governing organization. Let us be careful to avoid any unnecessary turnover.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Mr. Editor:—

So many fine things have been done by the City of Newton—over the years—that on receiving my copy of the Graphic and finding the Resolution drawn up by the Board of Aldermen and concerning that fine gentleman, Rev. John Sheridan, I wish to make my small contribution. We worked together for many years—always harmoniously and only three months ago I received a splendid letter from him which I shall treasure for a long time. He truly was an outstanding citizen—and I am proud that some of the boys I trained for eight years are on the Board that passed the Resolution.

KENELM WINSLOW
One time Principal,
Stearns School

Please accept my thanks for the splendid publicity you gave the Newton Community Halloween Parties. It is through such publicity that we can stir up and maintain the interest in a program of this nature.

Our parties were a great success and I feel that what we set out to do has been thoroughly accomplished and this success is in no small measure due to the publicity given it in the Graphic.

Again I wish to thank you for your kind cooperation.

Sincerely yours,
E. A. TERKELSEN,
General Chairman

Writes Appeal For War Fund

Joseph T. Walker, General Chairman of the Greater Boston United War Fund and guest speaker at the Opening Dinner of the Newton Community Chest Campaign at Newton High School, has written an appeal for the Fund which has had wide circulation.

The appeal has created much favorable comment, and with Mr. Walker's permission, we are reprinting it.

"Some day there will be a parade—the most stirring one in history... a VICTORY parade.

"Millions will cheer. Men, women and children... of all ages... will watch through tears of joy as our boys march by victorious.

"Soon the drums will be over. The drums will fade into history. And we will go home... back to the peace we love.

"But somewhere in the cheering crowd, will there be silent ones... men and women who can have no peace, ever? Will there be hopeless men and women whose hopes were killed by the forgetfulness of war? Will there be boys and girls who lost their father, spirit and future because nobody seemed to care? Will there be men and women sick of body, and of heart, because they looked in vain for cure? Will there be mothers and fathers who have seen their homes rot into poverty and distress because there was no helping hand?

"YOU HAVE THE ANSWER NOW IN YOUR PLEDGE TO THE GREATER BOSTON UNITED WAR FUND FOR 1944. For in giving to this great Fund you give not only to worth-while war charities... you give, as well, to your community, to your home.

"As a giver you are a builder. As you give, you make your community sounder, stronger, happier.

"You will give BECAUSE YOU CARE."

Give Because You Care

People of Newton will be given an opportunity to GIVE to the Newton Community Chest and the Greater Boston United War Fund in the 1944 Campaign which started Nov. 4th.

Charles B. Floyd, Campaign Chairman in Newton, has used the 1944 slogan, "GIVE BECAUSE YOU CARE," as the text for many of his campaign speeches. Mr. Floyd says:

"We will give because we care for the things our men are fighting for on the far-flung battle-fronts of the world.

"We will give because we care to keep our community just as strong and clean and healthful as we can make it. We know that wars are won at home, as well as on the battlefield.

"We will give because we care for the thousands of people beyond the pay envelope's reach... families stalked by illness and misfortune, unable to share in wartime prosperity... defenseless children who need care and protection... teen-age youths who need only a chance to go right... aged men and women whose working days are over.

"We will give because we care for our men and women in uniform, who look for help and comfort during lonesome hours far from home.

"We will give because we care for the living dead held captive behind barbed wire in enemy prison camps.

"We will give because we care for the oppressed but unconquered peoples valiantly fighting shoulder to shoulder with our men and us. We will give because we care for the refugees from Axis terrorism.

"Yes, we will give to the Newton Community Chest and Great-

NEWTON DEMOCRACY WILL GO OVER THE TOP

There is no finer exhibition of the practical working of American democracy than the annual community chest drives throughout the length and breadth of the land at this season of the year. Differences in racial forebears, religious beliefs and social strata disappear in a common unselfish effort for the good of all who need help. The benefits of these drives extend from the local community, institutions, which are constantly striving to bring within the reach of all the things which make our country worth fighting for, to our far-flung battle lines where a goodly percentage of the amounts raised will go to relieve the sufferings of those ravaged by war, and to the boys, so dear to us all, who are fighting for Uncle Sam.

In Newton, as in the rest of the country, people give their time and support to the Community Chest, not because some totalitarian dictator tells them they must. They do these things because this is their community and they are all glad to do what they can to help. Community chests not only bring charitable, health and cultural agencies together for the common good, they bring neighbors together. Countless canvassers, when they make their calls, are rather surprised to find so many fine and good people in their neighborhoods. The Newton community chest drives are one of the most powerful agencies for the promotion of real democracy in the community life of our city. Will Newton go over the top in the chest drive which begins this week? Of course she will!

AN OUTSTANDING RECREATIONAL PROJECT

The forty parties given the 10,000 school children of the city on Saturday evening in celebration of Halloween were an outstanding recreational success, not alone because of the enormous size of the undertaking, but even more so because it was undoubtedly ahead of anything of its kind so far attempted in the East. Such community-wide celebrations have for several years been carried out in the Midwest, especially in the states of Minnesota and Wisconsin, but this is the first time in the eastern states where parties have been provided for the entire school population in any city comparable in size to Newton. Then thousand children are a lot to entertain in one evening.

The Playground Department deserves great credit for having initiated the idea starting two years ago, and the business men of the city through the Chamber of Commerce for having underwritten the project for three successive years. Groups of busy Boston business men gave liberally of their spare time for two weeks or over in planning and in helping with the decorations and entertainment programs. Certainly one of the finest features of the evening was the co-operation of fourteen hundred parents who served on the numerous committees, played with their children and, doubtless, enjoyed themselves as much as the frolicking youngsters.

Of course, the evening over the city was not perfect, any more than anything else in this fallible world is ever perfect. All the children did not attend. If they had, there would have been 1500 more at the parties. Store windows and even the plate glass of a funeral home were marked up badly with candle wax which cost the owners of the stores of the city hundreds of dollars to remove, but no serious destruction of property was reported to the police and no false fire alarms were sounded during the evening. All this goes to show that the mass effort to give our children a good time and also to teach them what is good clean harmless fun and what is not was an outstanding success in which every citizen of the city may take just pride. The project was a recognition of the philosophical truth regarding normal human life, as old as man himself, which is so well stated by Dr. Richard C. Cabot in his "What Men Live By," "Real life demands work, play and love."

WASTEPAPER COLLECTION NOVEMBER 7th

Plans are completed for a city-wide wastepaper collection on Sunday, November 7, to help meet the grave shortage of wastepaper, which is delaying the shipping of war materials. All wastepaper obtained in the drive will be sold to paper mills to be made into new paper shipping materials. The proceeds will go to the Citizens' Committee for Service to Newton Servicemen.

Many individuals, firms and groups are contributing to make this important drive a success. The drive is sponsored by the Citizens' Committee for Service to Newton Servicemen, the Newton Post of the American Legion, and the Newton Chamber of Commerce. Members of the American Legion have volunteered their services as collectors. The services of trucks have been contributed by business firms.

All householders are asked to bundle and cross-tie the wastepaper in piles of about 25 pounds—about 6 inches high. This will help the collectors and will allow them to load the paper directly into cars for immediate shipment to the paper mills. The three major types of wastepaper should be bundled separately, one bundle to include newspapers, another to include magazines, and a third to include corrugated boxes and cartons and brown paper which have the greatest strength for the production of new shipping materials.

It is anticipated that over 200,000 lbs. of wastepaper will be collected in the drive, since most householders have been saving their wastepaper in the hope that some day it would help the war effort.

RIDGELY SCAMMON TO COACH AUBURNDALE CLUB PLAY

Ridgely Scammon of Auburndale has been secured to coach the forthcoming production of "Every Family Has One," by George Batson. Mrs. Scammon has worked with the club previously as leading lady in several plays and now because of her ability and experience has been persuaded to direct the new comedy.

A graduate from Leland Powers School of the Theater, Mrs. Scammon became Director of Dramatics at Stuart Hall, a school for girls in Virginia. She was a member of the Parish Players in Brookline and is at present an active member of the Brookline Amateurs.

This new play, written in 1942, was selected because it seems so well adapted to the facilities and personnel of the club and at the same time will provide plenty of entertainment for the audience. The situation is that of an aspiring woman who is hoping to make a good match for her daughter, when into the picture to clog the well-oiled machinery of husband-snaring comes the skeleton-in-the-closet.

The play is being cast this week and the committee was surprised and pleased by the number of men as well as women who sought parts in the production. "The final selection of the cast will be announced within a week and the rehearsals will get under way," said Mrs. Eric Kornath, Chairman of the Dramatic Committee of the Auburndale Club.

Capt. J. L. Brown Killed Oct. 21

Capt. Jason L. Brown, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Brown of 360 Central st., Auburndale, who was a pilot on a B-26 bomber and commanding officer of the squadron, was killed on Oct. 21, according to word received by his parents from the War Department.

Capt. Brown was recently decorated with the Air Medal and cited for downing four Japanese planes and firing an enemy ammunition ship, by Gen. George C. Kenney, commanding officer of the Army Air Forces in the Southwest Pacific.

He was inducted into Federal service with the Massachusetts National Guard and transferred to the Air Forces in 1939, receiving his wings a year later. He was graduated from Newton High School, Hebron Academy and the Oxford School of Business Administration in Cambridge.

Besides his parents, he is survived by a brother, Noel Brown, who is serving on a destroyer in the Pacific.

Don't Fill It Up, Lady!

USE LESS GAS FOR HEATING WATER AND CONSERVE FUEL FOR THE WAR EFFORT

To help save fuel critically needed by our boys at the fighting fronts, your Government asks you to use LESS gas today and everyday.

That means heating less water and using less gas for cooking, refrigeration and room heating.

You see, oil and coal are used in making gas. When you use LESS gas you help save vital fuels. We are cooperating with the Government in every way we can to conserve fuel in our gas manufacturing plants.

We know you will want to do your part. The simple rules at the left will help.

HERE IS HOW YOU CAN HELP

- 1 Cook whole meals in oven. Cook "one-dish" meals on top burners.
- 2 Don't use running hot water for washing dishes or hands. Repair leaky faucets. Heat no more water than necessary.
- 3 Never leave refrigerator door open. Cool cooked foods before placing in refrigerator.
- 4 Now is the time to have your heating system inspected. Don't wait for cold weather.
- 5 Winterize your home now by insulating and weather-stripping. It not only keeps your home warmer in winter but cooler in summer.

THE CAMPAIGN SLOGAN:
GIVE BECAUSE YOU CARE

This is a personal war. This is no struggle for a vague ideal, but a fight to the death between the way of slavery and the way of freedom. Every man, woman and child, whether a soldier on the fighting front or a soldier on the home front, has a direct and clear-cut responsibility. Home, country and our glorious heritage of freedom must be preserved.

Those of us on the home front must GIVE, not carelessly, but with our whole hearts and minds, because we CARE. We CARE for those whom Hitler's hordes have left homeless and hopeless. We CARE for our courageous fighting allies.

We must, then, as free men in the last free country in the world, GIVE, and in giving, prove beyond any doubt, that we do CARE.

TEN THOUSAND CHILDREN ENTERTAINED BY FOURTEEN HUNDRED ACTIVE WORKERS

Some of the Children Who Participated at the Church of Our Lady's Hallowe'en Party. Father Russell Haley is Shown Facing the Children

Students from the Junior Weeks School at the Hallowe'en Party at Newton Centre Woman's Club

Newton "went to town" in a big way in its celebration of Hallowe'en Saturday night. Ten thousand guests were entertained by 1400 workers in 40 different places. At each location the children were divided according to age, or school grade, and all were given the kind of a good time which would mean the most to each age group. This plan avoided the overcrowding which has characterized the parties of the two previous years. The School Committee, the women's club of the city and several churches provided the buildings, all of which were prepared and decorated before the gatherings by the special committees and were again set in order afterward by the same people.

Letters From Men In Service

Many replies of commendation regarding the USO have come to Charles B. Floyd, Chairman of the Newton Community Chest Campaign, from men and women in the service in response to a letter which he sent out this summer.

A Corporal in a Camp in Texas writes:

"There is one experience which I passed through when I first came into the service that I shall never forget. I am a boy who was schooled in Newton and also worked there so that I had never been away for any great period of time. I have always had the love and companionship of my mother. A boy living in that atmosphere feels a little strange at first. Feeling that way, I went to the USO and asked to talk with a woman about my mother's age but she looked and talked somewhat like mother. She helped me over this barrier by kind words and a home cooked meal and an evening of home life at her house. That is why I am happy that there is such an organization as the USO."

A SPAR Camp at St. Louis, Mo. sends the following comment:

"We girls all think that the USO is the next thing to being home. Here in St. Louis they have a beautiful USO for us service folks. When you walk in there are hostesses to give you a warm welcome. After checking your coats you can go over to one side where there are all kinds of games. Then there is a beautiful dance floor and every Saturday and Sunday they have different bands. In another part, there is a piano, writing tables, pool tables, a record maker, cookie corner and other things. There is also a place to sit and drink soft drinks. Any time we want to go to a show or some sort of entertainment all we have to do is to ask at the desk for tickets. The USO is just wonderful."

A Corporal Somewhere in England says:

"There are no USO buildings or quarters over here as there are back in the States. But we have had and are getting regular motion pictures and stage shows. Right now we have movies three times a week and at my regular base they have shows or pictures every night. The stage shows are about once a month and we have the best of talent. That is one night when we are all in camp. The USO is certainly a great and worthy cause."

The wife of a Sergeant stationed in an Army Air Field in Upper New York writes:

"My husband has asked me to write and give you his opinion of the USO about which he is very enthusiastic because of the very real good it is doing for the boys at his camp. It is a small town and with three thousand civilians who are working at the Air Depot, the town is pretty crowded. If it were not for the USO, the servicemen would have no place to spend their free evenings. Every night, the younger boys who are anxious to change their environment, head for the USO. They would be lost without it. Every Sunday evening a supper is served, free, so the boys rarely eat supper at Camp on Sunday. They all go off to the USO early in the afternoon. There is also a dance and the soldiers enjoy these dances very much. Everything is under proper supervision so that there is no danger of meeting undesirable people. Mothers can be sure that their young sons will not get into a bad crowd and need have no fears for the welfare of their boys as they will not be led into ways that might be forever harmful to them. The USO Clubs are protecting young boys who are away from the loving solitude and the watchful guidance of their parents and friends for the first time in their lives."

A letter has come from a Private, First Class, stationed at an Army Air Field in Wisconsin: "One Sunday when I first entered the service we were visiting some world-famous ships in the Navy Yard and crossed some old 'racks' and went down a filthy dust and debris littered old street. There in what had been an old field the USO faced us white and clean. We sat in the comforts of home, food, magazines, clean quarters, entertainment—all unobtainable on the city streets. It was fun—good clean fun—giving the stray and lonely serviceman some much needed comfort and solitude. Right then and there I formed an opinion of the USO that is faultlessly grand."

Pharmacist's Mate, Third Class, writes from an Advance Base Depot: "Until just recently I was down in Kentucky where I had neither friends nor relatives. The nearest town was Evansville, Ind., and I used to go there now and then just to get away from the Army for a little while. The USO was across from the bus station. It was always crowded, in fact overcrowded, but I want you to know that it was always my first stop. Perhaps it was just for a snack—doughnuts and coffee were always on hand—perhaps for advice on travel or to find out what was going on in town or to find a place to sleep. One of the greatest services this particular USO rendered was to put soldiers in touch with civilians in the town so that they could enjoy a home atmosphere again. Sure the USO is worth it—very darned cent turned in. We all feel the same."

A WAC stationed in Georgia says: "I certainly will be happy to tell about the USO. I arrived in Atlanta, Ga., tired and hungry and in the station I saw a sign reading 'USO Refreshments'. It was a good feeling to know there was a place to rest and to get something to eat in a strange city where I knew no one. If the people keep contributing toward the fund for the USO it will be a big step in winning the war for it sure keeps up the morale of the serviceman."

A Corporal stationed in Okla. wants Newton to know: "While at camp in Connecticut the only source of amusement was the USO. It wasn't much to look at but it was sure appreciated. On the way out here what looked like a dull, lonesome stop-over was turned into a darned good evening with food and dancing, all free. An entire auditorium was turned over to us including shower baths and since we were all hot and sticky from the train ride they really hit the spot. All in all the USO has given me much enjoyment and from the crowds that are always in them, they are doing the same for others."

The U.S.O. (United Service Organizations)

"You help someone you know, when you give to the U.S.O. The national U.S.O. joins in one great service organization the work of six national agencies in the armed forces throughout the United States and from Alaska to Hawaii, with 'Camp Shows' everywhere. These include the Y.M.C.A., the Y.W.C.A., Salvation Army, National Catholic Community Service, Travelers Aid Society, and Jewish Welfare Board.

Over 2400 clubhouses and units are now in operation, reaching millions of men each month. They offer recreation services, lounge and rest rooms, and personal help on individual problems. For men unable to go to U.S.O. clubs because they are on detached duty in isolated spots, the U.S.O. goes to them with Mobile Units, U.S.O. Service Clubs on wheels—taking them stationery, reading material, movies, games and other personal services. Tiring travel is relieved for uniformed men by U.S.O. Troops-in-Transit service, through homey lounges in railroad and bus terminals, including reading and writing facilities, and often refreshment and shower services.

Star-studded free professional entertainment has been given by U.S.O.-Camp Shows in Army and Naval Stations, on shipboard, in embarkation areas, and in Army and Navy hospitals. Relaxation by reading has been provided by varying tastes through the Victory Book Campaign, jointly sponsored by the U.S.O., the American Red Cross, and the American Library Association; over ten million books collected at a half-cent per volume.

Boston Flower Show New Open

Gorgeous chrysanthemums from Australia, the pick of the flowers from down "under," will be a feature of the 14th annual Fall Flower Show of the Massachusetts Horticultural Society which opened Thursday afternoon at Horticultural Hall, Boston, and runs through this Sunday night.

These Australian 'mums have been in America for more than a year because, to have them bloom in November as New England chrysanthemums do, it was necessary to have them sleep for six months. In Australia, 'mums bloom in April and May—which is when the antipodean Autumn begins.

The best of the American 'mums will parade with their allies from down "under." The great 'mum breeders of this country are presenting their best for 1943 to the world through the Boston Show. As an example of the way 'mums are grown here, one of the exhibitors, Yoder Brothers of Ohio, annually produces more than 14,000,000 chrysanthemum plants for sale to florists all over the world.

Arno Nehrling, the Director of Exhibitions, says that the famous DePetris 'mums, "Governor Saltonstall" and "Edwin S. Webster," will also be shown this year as well as banks of orchids from the South Sea Islands—tree-living orchids the same as United States servicemen see in the jungles where they are fighting.

Other features of the show include a display by the Gourd Society of America; a Chinese arrangement; winter house plants; flower arrangements under the direction of Mrs. Arthur P. Teale; wild berries and shrubs and trees of New England; American holly by Wilfred Wheeler; a comprehensive exhibit of soy beans and their uses from the Garden Club of America—and, of course, thousands of chrysanthemums in a rainbow of color.

Mr. Nehrling announces the judges of the show as follows: William Walke, Salem; James Methven, Dover; Alfred Fraser, Wellesley; Joseph Winslow, Newport, R. I.; Phillips Roland, Nahant; Stewart Johnson, Marion; R. S. Carey, South Hadley; E. S. Colpritt, Dover, N. H.; Thomas Milne, Oosterville; Alex. Cumming, Jr., Bristol, Conn.; Edward Trombla, Amesbury; William Williamson, Milton; Aubrey B. Butler, Northampton; John S. Ames, Boston; Ernest Borowski, Norwood; Dr. George O. Clark, Boston; Sydney G. Kimpton, Hingham.

THE CAMPAIGN SYMBOL: THE RED FEATHER AND THE BLUE STARS

The symbol of the 1944 United War Fund is again the red feather in a circle of blue stars.

The red feather signifies the Community Fund which, through its 264 agencies maintains a staunch guard anship over the unity of the Greater Boston home front, in war as in peace. It further symbolizes the friendly service that wages unceasing war against home front disasters, disease, poverty and neglect, and lends a helping hand in building and moulding the minds and bodies of our children and youth into healthy, happy men and women, well equipped to undertake the duties of parenthood and citizenship. It symbolizes the kindly aid given to those who are handicapped, which enables them to become contented and useful members of the community.

The blue stars stand for the added responsibility that our community must shoulder, now that our country and the world is at war. They exhort us to stand behind our fighting men, to aid our allies, and to provide our prisoners of war with the means to keep them mentally, physically and spiritually alert.

United War Fund

The National War Fund
Born of the war, and linked to peace by effective association with local home agencies of health, welfare and recreation, the National War Fund is a federation of war philanthropies, financed through local community campaigns with three simple aims:

1. To determine the nature and extent of war-related needs.
2. To see that everybody has a chance to contribute to the funds required.

3. To channel the sums raised wherever American help is currently most needed, for the military front, the United Nations front and the home front—enough and on time.

The National War Fund was created at the request of the President's War Relief Appeals Board. In communities, such as Greater Boston where Community Funds are already established, it will campaign with the local Fund. In communities with no local Fund, it will organize a local War Fund Campaign.

A National Budget Committee, composed of prominent business men, has heard the appeals of many organizations concerned with war relief and has accepted 17 of them for membership in the War Fund. The budget of each has been carefully studied and determined by this committee according to relative needs.

Exhibition Of Paintings Here

There is an exhibition of paintings in oils by Rev. H. Robert Smith of Newton at the Newtonville Branch Library from Nov. 2nd to Nov. 30th.

For the same period there is on display in the cases a very fine collection of Indian relics some dating back to the Stone Age collected and loaned to the library by Mr. Edward J. Pollock of Auburndale. Mr. Pollock has a collection of some thousand pieces; many of the pieces belonged to the Indians of Newton and surrounding towns.

The library is open daily from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. closed Sundays and holidays.

HOME SERVICE NEEDS MAN'S SERVICE NUMBER TO GET ACTION

When you require advice or assistance of any kind about a man or woman in the fighting forces, be sure and have the correct service number. This is the request of the Home Service Department of Newton Red Cross.

Frequently, the name, rank and address is not enough information—and in most cases action can be considerably speeded-up when the service or serial number is available.

Stewart W. Percy Is Re-Elected

Manpower To Be Discussed Here

Joseph A. Smith, Regional Director for New England of the War Manpower Commission, will address the monthly meeting of the Newton Highlands Men's Club to be held on Tuesday evening, Nov. 9, at 6:30 p.m., at the Congregational Parish House, Newton Highlands.

The address by Mr. Smith will revolve around the problem of manpower in New England, and particularly in the Greater Boston area, and Mr. Sidney H. Baylor, President of the Men's Club, in announcing the program for the meeting said:

"The presence of Mr. Smith with us at our second meeting for this year is a happy and timely event. The nation has swung into full-time production and our military forces are nearing the great battles of the war. At this time, then, the subject of manpower and its distribution between the military forces and the war product on factories is almost the major problem of the day. So great is the need for manpower to fill all our requirements, that fathers are now being drafted in considerable numbers into the military services. The way in which this manpower problem will be met reaches down deep into the lives of every one of us, and at such a time it is a rare occasion and a happy circumstance that Mr. Smith can be with us to bring our thinking into perfect focus with the job that faces every one of us."

As an added attraction action pictures of actual fighting on the war fronts will be shown.

This second monthly meeting of the Newton Highlands Men's Club will also be devoted to the introduction of the new members of the club.

What You Can Do To Protect It

"KEEP MUM-CHUM"

...on your doorstep

He might be Chinese, Russian, Greek, yes even American, this tiny helpless waif. What difference does it make? He and countless millions like him have been orphaned by the war. His older, but still youthful, brothers and sisters face dangers just as real right here at home as well as on the shattered battlefronts. They all need your help—and need it NOW!

That is why the banks of Newton unite to urge that you respond generously to the 1944 Community Chest Campaign that opens on November 4. You can be sure your gift will help where help is needed most.

The Newton Community Chest is asking for $302,800. More than 70% of this money goes to the support of the member agencies of the Greater Boston Community Fund. These include the sixteen local agencies that are dependent, in part or in whole, upon the Newton Chest. The rest goes to the National War Fund.

The local agencies aid the ill, the handicapped, the aged, the less fortunate and safeguard the health and welfare of our boys and girls.

The National War Fund supports the USO, furnishes War Prisoners aid, provides United Seamen's Service, and brings hope of life and freedom to our fighting Allies and to the oppressed but unconquered peoples of the world.

Consider these facts carefully and then let your heart decide. Pledge now to give REGULARLY during 1944 — and GIVE BECAUSE YOU CARE to the

$2,000,000 Is Needed For Our Armed Forces

Seventeen National and International War Front Agencies make up the National War Fund, a partner in the United War Fund in Newton. Of the $7,500,000 Greater Boston Goal, $2,000,000 is needed to provide services to the men and women of our armed forces, relief and recreation for prisoners of war, and food, clothes, surgical and medical equipment to the civilian victims and refugees in the occupied countries of our Allies.

The National USO joins in one great service organization, the work of six national agencies meeting the needs of our men and women in the armed services everywhere. More than 50 per cent of the National War Fund Goal is for USO.

United Seamen's Service operates rest centers for survivors of enemy action and for seamen in need of recuperation from the tension of wartime sea duty.

War Prisoners Aid is staffed by neutrals and brings recreational, cultural, and religious services to men of all faiths in prison camps.

Twelve Allied nations are provided relief of all types through carefully organized American relief societies. Each one of these twelve nations has at some time, during the past four years, held the forts against the Nazi onslaughts. Some are still holding. Others have been overpowered on their own soil and are struggling to maintain a semblance of independence for a future rebirth. The twelve Allied Relief groups are:

Belgian War Relief
British War Relief
French Relief
Friends of Luxembourg
Greek War Relief
Norwegian Relief
Polish War Relief
Queen Wilhelmina Fund
Russian War Relief
United China Relief
United Czechoslovak Relief
United Yugoslav Relief

The two additional partners are Refugee Relief Trustees and U. S. Committee for the Care of European Children. These two agencies help refugees of Axis dominated countries and children to become integrated members of a free society.

Cold-Prevention Program Starts

People who suffer from colds, in the belief that they are unavoidable will find new hope in an industrial cold-prevention program which has been started for the employees of Sherman Paper Products Corporation of Newton Upper Falls, manufacturer of packaging materials for war use and for the food industry. It is anticipated that employees will save 50-75 per cent of the time formerly lost through colds. This high goal has been established upon the strength of large-scale tests of a new cold-prevention method.

Employees who participate in Sherman's free cold-prevention program will receive one oral cold-vaccine tablet each day for the first eight days, after which they will receive two tablets a week. This will continue throughout the winter.

Newton in Sports

By Saul Exelbert

Vic Knapman's grid "snarling Tigers" should be the toast of the town even though they lost 20-12 to the highly favored Medford Mustangs. Outclassed in all departments they battled gallantly to put the Gilt Field hosts on edge to the last moment.

In fact the Mystics got a scare at the outset of the game after Newton recovered a fumble deep in Mustang territory. And that was all the Knapmans needed, a break, to give them confidence and then go on to make such a fine showing. They held the ball all through the first period and scored on Meirowitz's plunge in the second. Marv scored again in the last period and the Newton machine was speeding towards another tally late in the game on George "220" Shepard's gallop; but a last play pass interception completed matters and the game.

Newton was really a courageous crew against one of the fastest and heaviest squads on its schedule. It was just what you'd expect from the Tigers when the chips are down—spirit, fight, a good game, and surprise.

HIGHLIGHTS

Capt Marv Meirowitz played his best game to date. For a back who was all over the field he certainly was the captain and all round back that Knapman could ask for. If he doesn't get a bid for all-scholastic honors on this last performance alone something is wrong with the keen eyesights of these Boston sports writers.

Quarterback Bob Shaw was another back who receives laurels for a brilliant exhibition last Saturday. Here is an unknown who has been coming along slow but sure. Against Medford he was great. Against Watertown he was great. Against Medford he was superb.

Every Newton starter was a standout because the odds made it such; but you just couldn't help notice the spectacular playing of both these boys. Dick Bolster also played his best game to date. His passing helped the Tigers all through the tussle.

The game was wide open and the scoring was due to fleet backs George Morehouse, and Jim Sherwood of Medford and Marv Meirowitz (no kidding) and aerial pitchers like Bolster and Morehouse.

Breaks decided this match in the first half when all the points scored were "handouts."

Newton tallied first only after Medford fumbled twice. The Mustangs got a break on a pass interference in Newton territory, when they should have had to kick from their own 20, and countered on it. Then with a minute left in the first half, a boner let Morehouse fade back, for one last desperate pass. The ball fell into the hands of Johnny Corbissiero after three players tipped the aerial. It was just a case of "he was there and that's all there is to it." Just another miracle.

The last break was when Medford's first conversion was wide and a Tiger penalty allowed them another try. Yep, you guessed it. They made the second attempt good.

The other two scores of the game were "honest and decent." The boner of the day was a Tiger halfback banging down a Mustang pass thrown during that last minute first half Medford threat. Newspapersmen say that if he intercepted the ball, Newton could have taken over, though deep in their own territory and just run ground plays for time. But mistakes are common and it was just this time to make one, as on the very next play, Morehouse flipped his long touchdown (lucky) pass.

Heard by a fan—Why doesn't the coach take Meirowitz out of the game with a minute left to play and let the kid get the ovation he deserves as a great, game, player. Those who saw the battle can't help but remember the awful way Marv was lying on the turf on the last play of the game, and the way he walked off the field all alone until his teammate Shaw picked him up and the lockers both tired and downhearted.

Editor's note—That was sound advice. They do that in big time ball, especially at Notre Dame and Boston College. How about it coach? There are a lot of guys who deserve a hand instead of being forgotten because their team lost.

The game ended in such a way that the Medford fans will have to remember Newton for something. Shepard got into the game in the waning minutes (why?) and tore off a long 35 yard run to the Mystic 40 almost getting away for a score, if a safety man hadn't nailed him. Newton was "go, go, go" and the fans were getting excited again. But then Mustang Corbissiero intercepted a Newton pass and ran the other way down the sidelines before exhausted hard-running Meirowitz and an unknown Tiger tackler (who was he?) caught up to him on the 8 yard line.

What a finish! And a fine game for Newton. They're a great bunch especially when they lose. Now for Quincy and then Waltham, the new champs, seeing they beat, and upset Everett 7-6 last Saturday. What Newton fans would like to see now for a perfect season is—Waltham beat Medford next week, then come to Dickinson and get upset by the hard fighting Tigers. For a final what would be better than Newton revenge that horrible Brookline defeat last Thanksgiving?

Dr. Homer W. Anderson, the new superintendent of schools in Newton, was welcomed into the Rotary Club today by Harry H. Hanson. Dr. Anderson was also the guest speaker of the day and his subject was "Keep America American," and Mr. Ralph Taber, chairman of the Newton School Committee, introduced Dr. Anderson to the Club.

In his talk, Dr. Anderson emphasized the important role of education in this country, both in war and peace. He pointed out how quickly the education system adapted itself to the necessity of war-time education.

He said the job of education was two-fold: First to help in the war effort, and secondly, to teach young people to learn how to live together after the war. He pointed out that there was increased attention in education to science and mathematics, to physical fitness, vocational education, citizenship, and character.

Dr. Anderson paid tribute to the public schools in Newton, saying that the school system of Newton was one of the most outstanding in the country.

Prior to Dr. Anderson's talk, Roy Edwards of the Citizens Committee urged all members of the Rotary Club to help in the salvage collection next Sunday.

Very truly yours,

PATRICK J. CONNELLY

Orphans of the War

AMERICA today has countless thousands of "war orphans"... "orphans" who are neither fatherless nor motherless.

There are many right here in this community...children ranging in age from 6 and 7 to 16 and 17.

They are the children of healthy, vigorous, patriotic Americans—of parents who have either gone in war work or who, because of the manpower shortage, are working longer hours at their regular jobs and so are able to spend less time with their children.

Right here in town, you'll see these children on street corners or roving in gangs...unguided, in search of excitement... "orphaned" by the unfortunate dislocations which total war makes in everyone's life.

The problems of these "war orphans" can be dealt with—and must be dealt with if we are to avoid a wave of juvenile delinquency. It must be dealt with through various agencies—charged with seeing that these youngsters get sympathetic help and guidance, that they have supervised activities to keep them busy, that they have decent places to go.

The job facing these agencies today is bigger than ever before. That is why they need your help more than ever before. They get such help when you give to your local united campaign, affiliated with the National War Fund.

Your contribution to this worthy cause will cover the three fronts affected by the war—the homefront, the battlefield and our fighting Allies. Seventeen agencies, banded together in the National War Fund, have united with our local agencies—so that you need give only once for all of these. That makes the job of collecting the necessary funds simpler. It eliminates needless duplication and expense. It means that more of the money you give can go directly to the purpose for which it's intended.

Because you're being asked to give only once for all these agencies, you are also being asked to give generously. The job is vital. Add up all you would have given to each of the agencies separately, then double the total. It's an important contribution that you can make to victory and a sounder future!

RUSSELL BLAKE HOWE ACADEMY OF PIANOFORTE

Of interest to all serious students of Music should be the announcement now in our columns of the Russell Blake Howe Academy of Pianoforte.

Details of the remarkable work of this school is given to us by Mr. J. W. Tapper of Newton Highlands, an enthusiast in the spread of the gospel of music for all who has researched considerably on the teaching subject for some years and has placed many students in the right place for progress.

The Director, Mr. Russell Blake Howe, is one of that unusual combination of Artist and at the same time Teacher. Constant follow-up of his progress shows that age has made no difference; all students are enthusiastic to an unusual degree; and, students of many years visit to hear his students do equal work in one third the time.

Mr. Howe's broad background shows study under the following schools:

- Gillard of Leschetitsky-Czerny-Beethoven school.
- White of Carl Baerman-Liszt.
- Isidor Philipp of the Mathias-Chopin school (Philipp was considered the greatest living pedagogue, and head of Conservatoire de Paris).
- Bliss of Alberte Jonas-Andon Rubinstein.
- Herrard, eldest pupil of Chopin.
- Wanda Landowska, the great Bach exponent on Harpsichord and Piano.

Mr. Howe was the winner of the "Diplome d'Execution" from the Republic of France, which contest was held at Napoleon's Palace in Fontainebleau, France. While at Paris he met Courtreau who performed the great Bach Concerto in A Minor.

Mr. Howe studied Conducting under Andre Black, was 3 years Director of Music for public school system of Columbia, S. C. Choral and operatic work; junior and senior symphony orchestras, and bands. Fifteen years concertizing in South, mid West and West; and New York, in all Chopin concerts; Bach and Liszt concerts. Gave 50 concerts for station WOR. Director of Music, Pacific College, Los Angeles, Cal. Has taught many of the leading Moving Picture stars. At Steinert Hall he prepared advanced pupils for Europe. "Musical Courier" says: "His set of mechanical exercises covers every possible hand fingering over every possible interval, and every possible hand position, in all keys, rhythms and expressions."

"This technique took four years to perfect after Isidor Phillip had remarked to him that the technical foundation of the American student was neglected to a great extent, and that it took a great deal of time to acquire an adequate technique."

Remember Me?

I'M THE BOY you used to know in Newton, the one who delivered groceries from your favorite store.

Well, I'm a soldier now—and darned proud of it. But it was tough at first. I'd never been away from home before and the going wasn't easy.

Then I found the USO! Believe me, that's the soldiers' friend. Easy chairs to sit in, coffee and cookies like Mother used to make, a place to read and write in quiet and to meet the same decent kind of girl I knew at home.

That's why I say we servicemen owe you folks a lot. You've made the USO possible. The dollars you give come closest to making a home away from home.

Keep up the good work, will you? When you're asked to give this year, dig a little deeper. I'm sure you won't let me -- or any of us -- down.

Supporting the USO is only one of the many things you do when you give to the United War Fund in Newton. That part of the money given to the National War Fund helps War Prisoners, Merchant Seamen, our fighting Allies everywhere, and brings hope to the oppressed.

But there is a home front that must be aided too. It is a battlefield all its own. Along with the Greater Boston Community Fund, the Newton Community Chest must have money to do the work. The ill, handicapped, the aged, the less fortunate—all depend upon your generosity, so do the health and welfare of many Newton boys and girls as well.

Remember these things when you are asked to contribute. Decide now to GIVE BECAUSE YOU CARE and GIVE regularly during 1944 to the

WAR CHEST FUND OFF TO GREAT START

$92,800 OF $302,800 QUOTA OBTAINED ON FIRST REPORT

With the Newton Community Chest Campaign for the Greater Boston United War Fund opening last Thursday evening with one of the most outstanding meetings in the history of the Chest.

Newton is off to a grand start to raise its quota of $302,800. The Village and Division Headquarters were open for the first reports last Monday evening, and a total of $92,800 was turned in.

The 2400 volunteer workers, covering every house, business establishment, and industrial plant in the city, are enthusiastically working to complete their solicitation well before the final date of November 23, and Newton is making every effort to go over the top by a substantial amount.

Preliminary meetings were held in Newton Centre and Newtonville last Sunday and Newton Centre had a first report from every one of its 24 teams, while Newtonville had 14 of its 19 teams reporting. At the report meetings on the first night, the following percentage of quotas were reported:

The Mercantile Division reports 68% of its quota in the villages and 43% in the special solicitation. The Advance Gifts, Municipal, and Manufacturing Divisions have all started off most satisfactorily, and by the end of the week they expect to report large percentages of their quotas attained.

The Opening Dinner, on November 4th, had for its principal speaker Dr. Herbert Gezork, who thrilled the audience of 1200 in attendance with his first-hand account of conditions in Axis and occupied countries. Joseph T. Walker, General Chairman of the Greater Boston United War Fund Campaign, spoke eloquently of the needs: Neil Leonard, President of the Newton Community Chest, paid high tribute to Charles B. Floyd, General Chairman, and his campaign organization. Mayor Paul Goddard gave his proclamation, and Lawrence B. Damon, Chairman of the Residential Division, made an excellent charge to his workers as to their responsibility as salesmen for the local health and social agencies, USO, War Prisoners Aid, United Sea-

Capt. Lishon Is Reported Missing

Mr. and Mrs. Lester J. Lishon of 54 Sheffield rd., Newtonville have received word from the War Department that their son, Dexter Lishon, has been missing in action since Oct. 8. In the telegram he is referred to as Captain which was the first word his parents had received of his promotion.

Capt. Lishon was the pilot of Whale Tail III, flying fortress bomber. A letter written by him two days before the date on which he was reported as missing, was received by his parents two days after they received the telegram from the government. In letters he had written home he had not said much about his experiences but through other members of his crew, his parents learned that he had completed many combat missions in the European area, having brought home Whale Tail I with two motors shot away and also flew the Whale Tail II which was wrecked in a crash landing.

Capt. Lishon who is 23, was born in Boston. While attending Browne and Nichols School he was a star athlete. He was graduated from Manlius Military School, Manlius, New York, and was commissioned a second lieutenant of infantry in the R.O.T.C. at Plattsburg. He entered active service two years ago and at his own request was transferred to the Army Air Forces and began his flight training.

He was married two years ago. His wife, Mrs. Winifred Lishon, is residing with his parents in Newtonville.

The Tin Can Collection in ALL Wards of the City will take place on Tuesday, November 16. All tins must be placed in open CARTONS and must be placed at the sidewalk by 7 a. m. The date for the December collection will be announced at a later date.

Oppose Sewer Construction

Several residents and property owners who appeared at a hearing held by the Board of Aldermen on Monday night, were opposed to the extensive sewer construction project which has been urged as a health measure by the trustees of the New England Peabody Home for Crippled Children, of 474 Brookline st., Oak Hill.

The basis for the opposition was the assessments which would be levied against nearby property. Some of those opposing the project said they were reluctant to oppose an improvement that would benefit the Peabody Home and asked that the matter be delayed to give them a chance to further consider the matter.

C. Raymond Cabot, a trustee of the Home, described the need for the project, which he said would "tie in" with the Metropolitan sewer system. He said there had been "trouble" with the present sewer tank system and that the sewer project would remedy a "health situation."

The board rejected an application of the Daniels Paper Company for an extension of non-conforming use at the concrete block building at rear-19 West st., Newton, for warehousing new and used paper and paper projects because of the objection of abutters. The consent of the board was needed because the building is in a general residence district.

Major Ellsworth Visits Schools

The pupils of the Davis and Franklin Schools, West Newton, received a surprise visit during the past week from the principal, Major Elmer E. Ellsworth, who has been serving with the U. S. Army for the past 20 months and has been executive officer and second in command of the Army Air Force at Trinidad. On Wednesday he gave an Armistice Day address to the pupils.

Major Ellsworth is at home on a visit with his wife and two children, Nancy and David, at 230 Walnut st., Newtonville.

A veteran of World War 1, he was commissioned a 2nd lieutenant in the Officers Reserve Corps in June 1929 and Feb. 16, 1942 was called into active duty as a captain. He was promoted to the rank of Major after being assigned to foreign duty in April.

Major Ellsworth is a native of Willmantic, Conn., where his mother, Mrs. Anna J. Ellsworth resides. He is a graduate of Columbia University and received his master's degree from Boston University.

Paper Salvage Exceeds Quota

The Paper Salvage Drive in Newton sponsored by the Citizens Committee for Service to Newton Servicemen far exceeded the quota of 100 tons. It is estimated that 140 tons or about seven carloads of paper were collected.

Both Roy S. Edwards, chairman of the Citizens Committee, and Rupert C. Thompson, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, which co-operated in the project, expressed gratification today at the response of the public yesterday to the appeal.

The committee has announced that a similar collection will be held on Sunday, Dec. 26, the day after Christmas and residents are urged to save paper for collection on that date.

The paper collected on Sunday by the city trucks was deposited in freight cars at Newton Upper Falls to be shipped to mills where it will be converted into pulp for the manufacture of paper containers for war materials, including ammunition. The proceeds received from the sale of the paper will be used by the Citizens Committee to carry on its work for the Newton men and women in the service.

In the event that any bundles were overlooked by the collectors on Sunday, residents may phone the Chamber of Commerce office and the bundles will be picked up.

Doing State Set For Club Play

Fred Stearns, of Auburndale, is again doing the stage set for the forthcoming Auburndale Club play, George Batson's "Every Family Has One." This will make his twenty-first year as director of the stage at the Club, but his fifth year as an ardent little theater devotee.

Mr. Stearns first became active in stage work during the lush days of the First Corps Cadet Musical Shows. Then as a charter member of the Auburndale Club back in 1922 when it was formed by members from the Auburndale constabulary he was instrumental in building up much of the unusual equipment for which the stage at the Club is noted.

He was also the architect and director of the work of remodeling the Club house when it was enlarged some years ago.

The original stage committee consisted of Mr. Stearns, Dr. Arthur J. Furbish, Leonard Barry, Arthur Hancock, and Mr. Fletcher. More recently Mr. Stearns and Dr. Furbish have carried on the work by themselves.

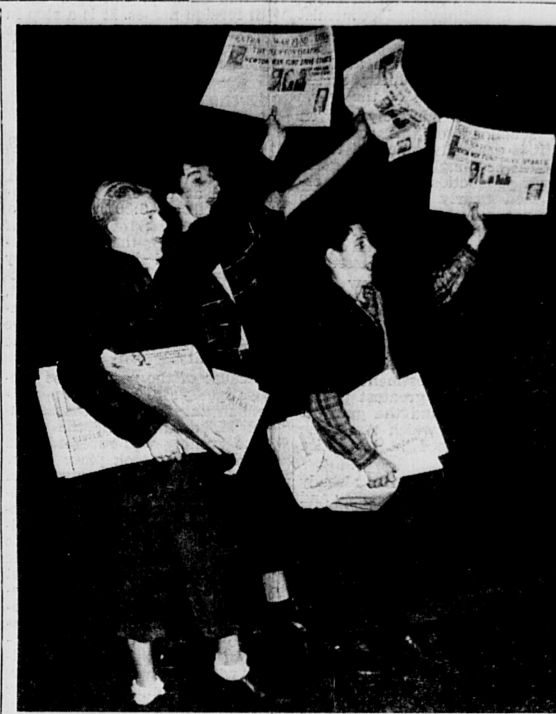

This year, however, Mr. Stearns is head of a large committee who will assist him and Dr. Furbish with the carpentry, painting, and planning of the set for the play.

The stage committee consists of Eric Kermark, William Richardson, Payson LeBaron, Darragh Higgins, Neal Herrick, Horace Hills, Mr. and Mrs. Pomeroy Hubbard, and Mrs. Joseph Hibsher.

Recital Highly Praised

Olga Stone, pianist, of West Newton, gave a recital in the Boston Public Library last Sunday evening. The program consisted of Mozart's Sonata No. 14 in G major; five Etudes of Chopin, No. 12 the Opus 10, and numbers 2, 5, 6 and 7 of Opus 25; and the Phantasia in C, Opus 17 by Schumann. The good-sized and appreciative audience which came to hear her sonorous and balanced, and her sensitivity to phrasing held their divided interest throughout the concert. The piano virtually sang in response to her touch. As she unfolded the measures of the andante in Schumann's Phantasia and in the Chopin etude No. 7, one was conscious of phrases beautifully moulded in a peculiarly expressive quality of tone. At the conclusion she was warmly applauded. She played an encore, "The Musical Snuffbox" by the Russian composer, Liadov.

Vote Purchase Of New Auto

For Use of Deputy Chiefs Of Fire Department

The sum of $1,396.96 was appropriated by the Newton Board of Aldermen on Monday evening for the purchase of a new car for the deputy chiefs of the Fire Department as recommended by Mayor Paul M. Goddard and Fire Chief John L. Keating. An additional sum of $1,200 was appropriated for the care of Fire Department buildings.

An appropriation of $250 was made for the Public Buildings Department for maintenance of automobiles and $175 for temporary help for the care of police headquarters.

The board approved mortgage loans of $4,500 and $5,400 proposed by trustees of the Horace Cousins Industrial Fund.

The sum of $50 was appropriated for settlement of a claim of Harriet G. Morahan on behalf of her mother for personal injuries and damage to clothing and eyeglass received in a fall.

The petition of the Raytheon Manufacturing Company for a permit to use fireproof buildings at 321 Washington st., and at 27 Peabody st., Newton, Ward 7, for light manufacturing purpose for the duration of the war and for 6 months thereafter was granted by the board.

On the petition of Elliston H. Bell for abatement of the tax on the property at the rear of 56 Waverley ave., Ward 7, the board voted "No action necessary" after Alderman Inches reported that the board had no jurisdiction on over tax abatements.

The board rejected the following claims: First Federal and Loan Association of Boston, for reimbursement on account of sewer and betterment assessments paid on the property at 36 Kodaya rd., Waban. Chairman Henderson Inches of the claims and rules committee explained that the board had no jurisdiction over assessments.

F. R. Devlin, claim for damage to the foundation of his home by surface water. Inches stated that the city was not liable for damage caused by surface water.

Joseph Balboni, for personal injuries received in a collision with a city automobile.

J. N. Wolbert, for damage to property caused by a leaking water meter. Alderman John Tenperley questioned the right of the city to refuse to pay for such damage, pointing out that the city "is in the water business for profit." Inches declared, however, that the city solicitor had ruled there was no liability unless the water department officials were aware of the defect and were negligent in making prompt repairs.

Katherine Fessenden, for damage to her automobile in a collision with a city car on Church st. Inches said the committee had discussed the case thoroughly and decided that there may have been contributory negligence on the part of the operator of the Fessenden car.

Waban Man May Still Be Alive

A letter received by Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth B. Hill of 156 Carlton rd., Waban, has given them hope that their son, Lt. Eugene V. Hill, reported by the government as missing in action following the raid on Hamburg, Germany on Sept. 27, may be alive.

The letter, written by the regular bombardier of the plane who did not accompany the rest of the crew on the mission of Sept. 27, states that other airmen who returned from the raid reported that the plane was apparently under control when it went down and expressed the possibility that members of the crew were able to escape by parachute before the plane landed, and if so, may have been taken prisoners of war.

Lt. Hill joined the Army Air Forces in May 1942. He received his commission and wings last March and went overseas three months ago.

NEWTON—A WELL GOVERNED CITY

Newton is a well governed city. Our school system has for many years been rated as one of the best in New England. Our street department is a model of efficiency, within the limits of its annual budget, our library system has one of the highest per capita circulations in the entire United States, and all the other city departments work with smoothness and efficiency. Our tax rate is one of the lowest for cities of its class. For years Newton has enjoyed an enviable reputation as an excellent place in which to live and to rear children.

However, any one who has watched the polling at our city elections knows that the above statement cannot be made because of universal interest in city affairs, nor is it due to the intelligence of the average voter who actually gets out on election day and records his choices for those who shall carry the responsibility of the conduct of our municipal affairs. It is due, in the main, to the high character of the men who serve us.

It goes without saying that in order to be elected to office in our city and to continue to be re-elected, one must be a man of exemplary character, but this is not enough. He must know his job. One of the main reasons why we are well governed is that there are always men serving year after year on our board of aldermen who know the city and its problems and have the integrity to stand up for what they think is to be the best interests of the people. These men are due the appreciation of every citizen.

Let us pause briefly to consider some of the principles which should govern our elections. In the first place, national machine politics should be completely out, as they are supposed to be. In the second place, personal fitness should be the main criterion in our choices of candidates. A man needs to know a lot about the responsibilities and duties he proposes to assume before he seeks office. In the third place, any man well qualified for public office in our city should stand a fair chance of election regardless of his leanings in state and national politics, regardless of his racial prejudices or of the extent of his social popularity. Our boys are now fighting on the far-flung battlefronts of the world in order that democracy shall not perish from the earth. It is up to all citizens everywhere to see to it that the home town exemplifies the realization of the ideals for which the great armies of democracy are so bravely and successfully fighting today.

BEHIND YOUR VOTE

The Reader's Digest, a white back, told the story of a voter approached by dealers from both parties on his way to the polls. One party offered him seventy-five cents for his vote. The other offered only fifty cents. He pocketed both offers but voted for the fifty cent proposal because it was "less corrupt." Voting for the lesser of two evils has long been the practice of America's political disillusions. In the new world we are fighting for we aim to be able to vote always for the greater of two goods.

"But good men don't always run," as some reader may protest. Whose fault is that? Responsibility in a democracy is not simply to choose the better of two men but to see that good men offer themselves and, even back of that, to see that men are good.

We try to do this on the cheap by hiring school teachers and ministers to produce good men for us. But it doesn't work that way. School and church seldom undo the prior training of a home. The only way to make sure of a good man in the White House is to make sure of good men in every house—starting with your house and mine.

"But we know nothing about politics," some family may suggest. "How can we train statesmen in our home?" Lincoln's father and foster mother knew nothing about politics. But they did teach him the great truths of the Bible and the simple principles of honesty. Great statesmen learned at home to put their country first and think of themselves last. The moral character of our leaders—even more than the laws they uphold—makes the difference between order and chaos in municipal, state and national affairs.

Every home of character which produces men of character is an incubator for the leadership our country needs. Even when our own home has no man available we can influence the home next door or down the street. Election day in the new world we're wanting must be EVERY day in every home across America. Then "we the people" can nominate, elect and stand behind worthwhile representatives because we have given them something worthwhile to represent.

When we come home again
Forget the hard
Just have the things we fought for
Well in hand.

National Elections

I was startled to read in the paper a few days ago a statement by a Democratic Senator from Colorado, Edwin Johnson, that the "New Deal is through." He urged his party to draft General George C. Marshall for President in 1944. He said further that, "Even a child knows that a political revolution comparable to the Harding Landslide is sweeping this nation."

Now even granting that this particular United States Senator has differed frequently with Mr. Roosevelt during his seven years tenure of office, his words are harsh and drastic. Consider also Drew Pearson's statement last night to the effect that close friends of the President report "less inclination to run for a fourth term." What does this mean? Does it mean that the result of the various elections throughout the country last week are viewed as a real catastrophe by the administration?

Let's consider for a moment just what happened. Kentucky elected a Republican Governor. That, alone, is a striking demonstration of democratic weakness. New Jersey elected an old Republican war-horse, former Senator Edge, as Governor. Under ordinary circumstances, this distinguished gentleman would have been thought of as too old to lead a keen struggle for this important Governorship. Then we have New York state, where the national administration was strongly behind the Democratic candidate for Lieutenant Governor, who was overwhelmed by the G.O.P. entry to the tune of over 300,000 votes. Incidentally, that election started further speculation regarding Governor Dewey's availability as a Presidential candidate next year. Let us remember that Dewey's supporters were very nervous about the outcome of this contest. If the Democratic candidate had won, Dewey would have been definitely out of the 1944 picture. Even Dewey's staunchest supporters would not have dared to run over the control of New York state to the Democrats. That, of course, is what would have happened if a Democrat had been elected to the Lieutenant Governorship and Dewey had dropped out in the middle of his term to run for President. As matters now stand, Dewey could drop out, despite his promise to finish his term, because his own party would still retain control of the state machinery. Of course, Dewey would have to be drafted with a capital D in order to retain his self-respect. Up to date he has played the game properly. He has stated once more that the recent election has NOT altered his determination to complete his term. However, you know as well as I do that NO politician would ever refuse to yield to an absolutely overwhelming call from the people of the country!

Finally, consider the results of last week's elections from a local angle. By that I mean the results in cities and towns all over the country. Democratic strongholds like Hartford, for example, turned out their Mayor and put in Republicans. In other words, there was a grass-roots revolution, indicating that people everywhere are getting sick and tired of the present administration. Never mind the specific reasons. It may be the bungling of rationing, it may be governmental waste and inefficiency, it may be the influence of the Left Wing in Washington, it may be any or scores of fairly good reasons. The point is that there is a marked feeling of dissatisfaction gradually sweeping over the country. Again, consider Drew Pearson's words to the effect that Mr. Roosevelt "had warned White House associates that politically the administration was 'trailing.' The exact words were, 'We're behind.'"

Before leaving this topic, it is of interest to note that there are many Republicans who are so sure of an overturn next year that they are seriously considering running a regular conservative for President. The latest potential entry is none other than Congressman James Wadsworth of New York, who once served in the U. S. Senate, but came a cropper when he was up for re-election. He was willing to go back to the House again and has had considerable influence there.

Washington — During the tense dark days that followed immediately after the Pearl Harbor sneak attack, a distinguished economist of German birth and international viewpoint made this prediction: "History will record the achievement of American industry as the outstanding miracle of the war."

Time has conclusively proven the soundness of this assertion, for it is generally conceded today that the seemingly fantastic goals of war production which were established nearly two years ago have not only been attained, but, including the huge Federal investments in war plants and equipment, have been far surpassed.

Recent disclosures show that such government investments now amount to almost 25 billions of dollars. Economists attempting to formulate post war plans for American industry believe that this 25 billion investment represents at once the greatest potential threat which American industry has faced in its entire history.

Congress, however, has already created a committee on policy and post-war planning and various elements of the executive branch are likewise delving into the problem of what business and industry under the guidance of the Department of Commerce are surveying the situation especially as it will affect the maintenance of post-war employment. And while it is evident that numerous types of manufacturing centers created solely to speed the war production cannot be converted to peace time use and may have to be scrapped, other government owned plants can continue to operate after the war to produce the million and one items the entire world will be seeking for reconstruction. Moreover, many other plants for aircraft building, aviation gasoline, aluminum, magnesium and synthetic rubber may be retained and operated as a guarantee that this government will never again be caught short or become entirely dependent on foreign sources.

The over-all picture looks promising and unless political factors are permitted to become involved it seems that the administration in cooperation with private industrialists will have jobs instead of "doles" for the men and women who, we hope, will soon return to live the normal, peaceful lives they are fighting so valiantly to regain.

Officially Harry Hopkins is chairman of the Munitions Assignment Board and special assistant to the President. Unofficially he is the President's most trusted and closest advisor. Until now, however, for several years, Harry Hopkins lived in the White House and probably saw and talked to Mr. Roosevelt as often as anyone in the Presidential household. He, then, is best qualified to answer a question that has been asked by the press since 1933: Who writes Mr. Roosevelt's speeches?

Not he, nor Sam Rosenman, nor Felix Frankfurter, nor Robert Sherwood, nor any of the dozen other suspects—but Mr. Roosevelt himself writes his own speeches, says Mr. Hopkins.

The boss, Harry adds, may call on many government research men to dig up facts for him, but he writes, edits and dictates his own speeches.

Coming from the man the President familiarly calls "Harry the Hop" and whom others refer to as the President's "shadow," it should be sufficient to settle that question once and for all time.

American educators interested in furthering the teaching of true democracy by their schools could copy the Springfield, Mass., plan now in its fourth successful year of operation.

A new curriculum adopted in all Springfield schools in 1938, and especially designed to filter out racial prejudice absorbed by children from the adult world, shows that these same children have made great progress in understanding and in tolerance toward all peoples.

A policy of open discussion in class rooms about prejudices is the basis of the program. Moreover, teachers readily admit that the democratic ideal is still far from being realized in this and other democracies. This attitude, it is felt, will protect the children from becoming disillusioned later in life.

The Springfield plan emphasizes the contributions of all nationalities and racial groups to the development of this country. Students are encouraged to express their attitudes and opinions of foreign groups and submit reports. As a result of this program children of American background are given an insight into foreign culture and children of foreigners are no longer apologizing for their foreign relatives.

They are presently shown lists of American war casualties and it is soon clear to them that not only

Letters To The Editor

17 Court st.,
Boston 8, Mass., Nov. 3, 1943.

Dear Sir,
On behalf of the United States Office of Civilian Defense, nationally and locally, I should like to convey sincere appreciation to members of the state and local Civilian Defense councils who worked so untiringly and unselfishly on the enforcement of the dim-out.

At the same time, I should like to assure your readers that the assistance given us by your newspaper has been of great value as it publicized the need for the dim-out.

My one regret is that the Office of Civilian Defense cannot show its gratitude in a more personal manner.

Those members of the Citizens Defense Corps who have been engaged in dimout enforcement are now asked to make themselves available for other types of volunteer assignments in the protective or war services fields to relieve the increasingly critical shortage of volunteer manpower.

Sincerely,
Joseph M. Loughlin,
U. S. Regional Director
First Civilian Defense Region.

THANK YOU

Mrs. Margaret M. Hoar of 1148 Beacon st., Newton Highlands, wishes to thank her friends who were anxious to have her name on the ballot in Ward 5. Mrs. Hoar states if they feel the same way in the near future she won't disappoint them. She also states, since we women are the sufferers we should have a hand in the making of our laws.

To the Editor of the Newton Graphic:

In regard to the Cleveland Circle traffic problem we understand that the Boston Elevated, the Newton Bus line, the people of Newton, Waban, Brookline, Roxbury, West Roxbury and so forth have agreed that a shelter should be built upon the Boston Park property upon the western side of the Circle. Of course, this would seem to settle the much thought of problem. BUT DOES IT? Does it solve the dangerous traffic problem at this point. People must disembark and trek across the traffic of Cleveland Circle and pass by two often active filling stations until they arrive at the point of departure for Boston upon the Elevated cars at the corner of the formerly run drug store by A. C. Morey at 1943 Beacon st. By the way this drug store has recently been purchased by the Elevated as a waiting station and as a rest room for the conductors. A possibly this purchase was made since the conference of the above mentioned parties and it might alter the picture of traffic and thus better the serious traffic hazard.

We observed that the Elevated buses pass around the corner and deliver their passengers in front of the above mentioned drug store. Now WHY NOT the Newton buses? thus saving one crossing of the circle. Cannot the permit be extended for the Newton buses to cross the circle. It is all in Boston.

Then after delivering the passengers they could return to the Circle and rest until it is time for taking on the patrons and then arrive at the front of the Drug Store, take on their load and depart without any crossing of the circle by patrons of all lines. Let any one who would like to know about the facts visit the trekking from 5 p. m. to 6 p. m. upon any afternoon and then solve the problem in the best manner. CAN IT BE DONE AND WHO CAN SAY THE SOLUTION NOW IN FORCE IS THE BEST FOR ALL CONCERNED? Why build the shelter?

"Mortals and Immortals" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read on Sunday, November 14, in The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, and in all of its branches.

The Golden Text is from Romans 8:13 "If ye live after the flesh, ye shall die; but if ye through the Spirit do mortify the deeds of the body, ye shall live." Other citations from the Bible will include "The Lord is the portion of mine inheritance and of my cup: thou maintainest my lot. The lines are fallen unto me in pleasant places; yea, I have a goodly heritage" (Psalms 16:5, 6).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The conceptions of mortal, erring thought must give way to the ideal of all that is perfect and eternal. Through many generations human beliefs will be attaining diviner conceptions, and the immortal and perfect model of God's creation will finally be seen as the only true conception of being" (p. 260).

This WEEK, This WORLD

by Ted Friend

ONE THING WHICH stirs the German people's will to conquest is its overwhelming conceit, social, cultural and economical. Ask any Junker-dominated German—and most Germans are so dominated—and he will blandly assure you that Germany is "positively tops" in everything she attempts. It is a waste of time to ask a German to admit that any other country or people has an iota of anything which is better, or even as good, than that which is produced or divined in Germany.

It is this overwhelming ego—rarely backed by proof—which makes it simple for the German ruling class to propel the 80,000,000 Germans in Central Europe into the ventures of conquest on suitable occasions. The egocentric German, in spite of an inner voice which warns him that he may not be nearly so much the person of parts he is told he is, can always be depended upon to try to impose his will on the "inferior" peoples which surround him.

It would appear to be necessary, after it soundly defeated once again, for the United Nations to insist upon an educational system in Germany which will not belittle, underestimate or malign the other peoples of the world. Such facts of life, if presented in irrefutable form, and if din into the German subconsciousness long enough, might actually, some distant day, make a law-abiding people out of the Germans.

Thus, it might be possible to convince the Germans that in spite of their instinct for terror that they have little chance of conquering the world if for no more complex reason than that they haven't got what it takes to do so. As long as the Americans and British can out-build, out-mine and out-produce them, and as long as they have the populations to support such superlatives, chances for German dominance of the world are very slim. Although off-guard initial German rush may bring early and spectacular gains.

An example is the U-boat warfare, on which Germany has leaned heavily in its last two wars, and which in both instances has proved so much a false cropper. Germany cannot beat the American and British via the U-boats for the very elementary reason that the Americans and British can build ships and munitions faster than Germans can destroy them.

The spectacular American success in helping to defeat the U-boats, aside from brilliant naval patrolling of the sea lanes, (and which any German capable of adding a row of figures should have foreseen) is indicated in the figures relating to American shipbuilding facilities. Since the launching of the "Patrick Henry," Liberty Ship Number 1, no less than 2,100 ocean-going cargo ships, totalling more than 22,000,000 deadweight tons, have been built in the United States. American shipbuilding facilities have increased from 21 shipyards and 100 ways to 21 yards and more than 300 ways! Any moment now, production will be six merchant ships a day! And by the end of 1944 the United States will have built a total of 50,000,000 deadweight tons of merchant ships, equal to two-thirds of all the merchant shipping in the world prior to the war!

The Nazis could have foretold this. American industrial records have never been a secret. And American shipbuilding achievements in the first World War were a case history of unexampled clarity. Certainly the Nazis with their trick genius for snooping should have been aware of America's gargantuan industrial capacities. It should have been a matter of simple arithmetic for them to discover that if they produced U-boats until they were blue in the face they could not drive their opponents off the seas.

It is such elementary facts as these—relating to their basic economic inferiority—that should be driven into thick headed German Junker minds. It isn't enough to have one's own populace at one's beck and call; it isn't enough to be tough with small and helpless peoples at one's elbow, in war or peace. One must have "what it takes"; that is the sinews of war which are economic strength, the capacity to become an arsenal, and a populace prepared to fight to the death for its rights and possessions. And of these, in spite of its superabundant ego, Germany has lost that its American, British or Russian opponents.

LONG RANGE PLANS are afoot in Russia and China which will have the reconstruction, modernization and development of those countries as their objective. In Russia a 15 year plan has been drawn up by the State Planning Commission to rebuild the region devastated by the Germans, as well as to found new industries increasing the per capita production of iron, steel, fuel, machines and consumer goods.

The Nazi invasion of Russia on June 22, 1941, according to Lewis L. Lorwin, an American authority on the Soviet Union, halted the onward economic march of the Soviets who were slowly and at great effort taking Russia out of its semi-feudal status and making it into a modern industrial nation. "The cost of the war," says Lorwin in a report issued by the Twentieth Century Fund of New York, "will be enormous in terms of factories and buildings destroyed, of ruined towns and villages, of depleted agricultural crops and loss of livestock, but the loss of life... is tremendous as well." At the end of the war a large part of the gains of more than a decade of hard work will have been wiped out. Russia will have at least a decade of work ahead just to repair the damage done to it by the furore of German arms.

China's plans for national reconstruction will be equally as great. China will require and welcome investments in the billions of dollars most of which she hopes will come from friendly United States. Both Russia and China will make great purchases in goods and machines to repair the war damage done to them.

Thus will two of America's allies in war become two of her best customers in peace.

Just a drop in the bucket?

MAYBE you've felt that the dollars you were able to put into your savings bank account were just a drop in the bucket.

Actually, your dollars—plus practically every new dollar deposited by the 2,824,209 other Bay Staters who have savings bank accounts—are going into government bonds. They have enabled the Mutual Savings Banks to invest over a billion dollars in government bonds and also purchase more than $229,000,000 in the recent third War Loan.

Enough to buy 4,000 bombers.
10,000 medium tanks.
Or furnish rifles for an army of ten million men.

So you see, with your help, the banks are able to perform another vital role in wartime.

Joint Meeting Is Held Here

"Keep America American" Is Topic Discussed By Clubs

"Keep America American" was the theme of the joint meeting of the Newton Kiwanis, Rotary, Lions and Chamber of Commerce held Tuesday evening at the Newton Y. M. C. A. Over one hundred members of all the Clubs and the guests were guests of the Newton Kiwanis Club.

After a bountiful chicken pie dinner with "all the fixings" and a lively round of Club singing, led by Cecil Clark of Rotary, Jack James of Kiwanis and Jack Tupper of Lions, President Jim Riggs introduced Rotary President Herb McGill, Lions President Dave Buxbaum and Rupert Thompson, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, who expressed their pleasure at having been invited to join together in a common meeting.

Mr. Thompson spoke briefly on the work the Chamber is doing along the program outlined by the Committee on Economic Development for locating jobs after the War. He also spoke on the survey being conducted for retail business in Newton. He also commented on the success of the recent scrap paper drive when well over one hundred twenty tons of this commodity was collected in one day.

The next speaker was Robert L. Roy, N. E. Governor of Kiwanis International, who spoke briefly on the common problem facing all of us in the continuance of the American Way of Life and the free enterprise system. He said in part:

"For many years free enterprise has been taking it on the chin and below the belt, with but feeble protest and little defense from those most best able to offer defense. The achievements of private industry in the last several years, however, have provided a sound foundation for an offensive, and it would be almost criminal not to use this opportunity to re-educate every citizen to recognize and hold fast to the ideals that have made America 'The Land of the Free.' What does Freedom involve? 'Freedom is a costly thing. It involves the right to make mistakes, the right to be wrong, the right to create and the right to conserve, the right to enjoy and the right to share. But most of all it involves the right to be free from the tyranny of government; the right to a maximum of independence and personal responsibility without which security is impossible and social welfare is an idle dream.'"

Prizes were won by Joe Davis, Win Brainerd, Perley Hillard, A. S. Savory, and Bill Hahn. Frank Battles and Archie Bellinger of Kiwanis, George Grant of the Chamber of Commerce and Ed McGill, brother and guest of Herb McGill of Rotary. Doug Sloane was a guest of Ben Louis of Kiwanis and Ray Thomas was a guest of Bill Wright of the Chamber of Commerce. Frank C. Wedekind and Machinist 2nd class George Wolf USCG, were guests of Len Baker of Kiwanis.

Russell Norton, Governor Elect of N. E. and Harold Hall, Lt. Governor of the district, were then introduced.

Ben Louis, Kiwanis Program Chairman next presented the feature speaker, Edward J. Pease, a past President of the local Kiwanis Club, who described how the movement "Keep America American" was initiated by four Kiwanis Clubs in Dallas, Texas, and is now sweeping the country. He described how this is a program of publicity designed to make people THINK. He also told how in most cities and towns all of the service clubs have joined in a cooperative movement to sponsor this program.

Pease told how this great country of ours was developed by initiative. He said in part:

"Initiative is an attribute of the spirit, springing out of certain urges within mankind. A yearning for the security of one's family moves men to exert themselves beyond the requirements of mere survival. Men, too, desire recognition from their fellow men. Pride of work, pride in the superiority of their product, the doing of a better job than the other fellow, prestige of position—all these are aspirations that motivate men's actions. So, too, is the urge to improve our material well-being; to eat more or tastier food, wear better clothing, live in more comfortable homes.

When opportunity exists for the satisfaction of these urges, men develop what we call initiative. Initiative finds its expression in competition; and competition is possible only where there is freedom of choice and action. Where men are denied freedom of choice and action, their initiative dries up and gives way to inertia and inefficiency.

In Europe the initiative of men has been throttled by centuries of oppression, regimentation, socialization. Freedom of decision and choice is so restricted, and the opportunity for improving one's lot is made so difficult, that men lose heart and give up the job. The worker, knowing that his place in life is fixed, does what he has to do to live and no more."

He mentioned that Winston Churchill is quoted in The Reader's Digest as saying: "We must beware of trying to build a society in which nobody counts for anything except a politician or an official, a society where enterprise gains no reward, and thrift no privileges."

He concluded his talk by saying:

"Shall we who are here tonight dedicate ourselves to the proposition that our children and our grandchildren shall continue to enjoy freedom of individual opportunity, freedom to work and enjoy the fruits of their labor, so that when our boys finally come home—the America that they fought for will still be here?"

President Riggs then introduced our own Jim Gallagher, a Trustee of Kiwanis International, who answered questions on various aspects of the contemplated movement. He emphasized the fact that this movement is strictly non-political.

President Jim Riggs then asked for the appointment of three men from each organization to meet later to further this program.

After the meeting was adjourned, the popular comment was ably expressed in the words of that jolly song "Why don't we do this more often."

NEWTON DAY FOR BLOOD DONORS

Monday, November 29th, is to be set aside as Newton Day at the Boston Collection Center, announces Mrs. C. Terry Collins, Blood Donor Committee Chairman of the Newton Red Cross. It is the aim of the Newton Red Cross to send a pint of blood for every Newton Service man. 2700 Newton pints of blood have gone to war, but there are 6800 Newton boys now in the services. Newton residents are urged to contribute the additional 4100 pints to bring them safely home.

"Blood donors back home are saving lives by a thousand," said Capt. Charles A. Horn of the North African Photo-Reconnaissance Wing, to Mr. Edward G. Humphrey, founder of the "Gallon Club." Corporal Horn said that when the news of the folks back home donating their blood reaches our fighting men, it acts as a great boost to their morale. "Three cheers for you, the 'Gallon Club,' and the Red Cross," his letter concludes. "You can't stop now or we'll lose a lot of American boys who could have been saved by a blood transfusion in time."

The Gallon Club, whose members have contributed 8 pints of blood, was started by the Newton Red Cross at the suggestion of Mr. Humphrey, and is now featured by Red Cross chapters all over the country. Newton's Gallon Club boasts 40 members with many more on the way. To make an appointment for Newton Day at the Boston Collection Center, telephone the Newton Red Cross, LAS 6000.

State Guard Holds Inspection

The annual State inspection of Company C, 23rd Infantry, Massachusetts State Guard, was held Monday evening at the Armory, West Newton.

The program consisted of the following groups of training demonstrations: starting promptly with rollcall at 7:50 p. m. inspection calisthenics; riot formations; road blocks, signal communications, and trucking; marksmanship, self defense, interior guard and crawling; close order drill; and colors.

Following the formal program, refreshments were served to the visiting officers, civilian guests, and members of Company C.

A feature of the evening was the appearance of a secondary company of recruits, dressed in chamois uniforms, enrolled during the recent State-wide campaign for new members of the State Guard. The new men, with only a month of training, made a creditable showing and compared favorably with the green-uniformed regular company.

Col. Henry Cormerais, Inspector General of Massachusetts, and State Quartermaster David Berg headed the list of visiting officers. The inspecting officer was Col. John Riley of the 26th Infantry, assisted by Capt. Goldstein.

Representing the 23rd Infantry were Col. Edward J. Connolly, Lt. Col. Edward Dolan, Major Kingman P. Cass, Major Wilfred A. Berg, 1st Battalion Commander, Capt. McKenna, Captain Chambers, and Lt. J. Edward Hayes.

In evidence during the evening were several of the new buff and blue State Guard service ribbons, recently authorized by the State for men who have served honorably one year or more in the Guard. The first member to receive the new ribbon was Col. Connolly of the 23rd Regiment.

The officers of Company C are Capt. Thomas J. Hennessey, 1st Lt. John Clement, and 2nd Lt. Frank A. Stevens, Jr.

The WAGS Are At It Again Here

4-F of the K-9 World Can Back Up Dogs of War

By S. R. E.

The Wags are at it again! Uncle Sam's newest warrior is giving Hitler and Tojo a real nipping. Along side of the Waves, Wags and Wags, the Wags are doing a dog's share in the obliteration of the axis scoundrels.

You've most likely heard of the hero's deeds of some of the K-9 troops in Italy and Guadalcanal and you will certainly be seeing

PETTY OFFICER 3-C AUGUST BEGS FOR RECRUITS

Corporal Ironsides strut down Broadway lane when the Johnnies come marching home.

But there are other fellow canines in the fight for freedom. They are helping to speed the war effort even though they can't join their buddies in snapping at an enemy's crawling leg, running communication errands, guard vigilantly over an injured soldier or patrolling a sea shore post.

Yes, the 4-F K-9 who isn't wearing the Red, White and Blue in service, is like the civilians on the home front backing up the sons, daughters, fathers, and friends with war saving bonds. There are 2,000,000 dogs out of the country's 20,000,000 thoroughbreds and mongrels who have been classified as unfit for war service. They just don't fit the K-9 corps standards as to size and quality....And yet the unqualified serve.

Last February Dogs for Defense launched a war dog fund plan whereby each dog on the home front could help support a buddy WAG on the fighting front. The army pays to train the dogs in service. Processing each dog before it enters the K-9 corps costs $10 and the training includes expenses for recruiting, examination, veterinarians, crating, shipping and finally reshipping to military posts. And the war dog fund takes care of all the expenses involved.

Any dog big or little, thoroughbred or mongrel, can be a civilian and still receive a military rank in either the Army or the Navy if his master will send a check to the war dog fund drive. The following form explains how your dog can have a rank in the service although a home front defender.

Newton in Sports

By Saul Exelbert

The Wildcat is a tough animal. So is the Tiger. When the Wildcat and the Tiger meet.... Well, you take your choice.

The Waltham Wildcats and the Newton Tigers will do battle at the Dickinson Stadium on Saturday afternoon. In this particular case the Wildcat seems a little more ferocious than the Tiger but one of the most outstanding upsets of the 1943 schoolboy grid season may be in the offing.

Riding on the crest of an eight game winning streak Waltham, particularly after hard-fought victories over Everett and Medford on successive Saturdays, may not be quite up to snuff. Newton, on the other hand, has everything to gain, nothing to lose, and is ready for the kill.

Way back in 1925 the teams met under similar conditions. Waltham had a 7-6 lead in the waning moments of the game when your old friend Tommy Gilligan booted one of his patented field goals and with that kick Newton rode to a sensational upset victory. The conquest was one of the greatest in Newton sports annals and it was scribbled all over the sports pages of the Boston Journal for days afterwards.

And Saturday these two grid classic rivals fare off in their 36th annual football meeting.

Since this is Newton's final home game and thus the last home performance for seniors and several other lads who are destined for war service, the Saturday clash looms as a humdinger and a "grab your seat early chum" affair.

The Stadium should be a sellout because:

- (1) Any Waltham-Newton game is a MUST
- (2) Waltham is undefeated and the Tigers have nothing to lose and everything to gain. A tie would even be a moral victory.
- (3) Wildcat stars such as the four horsmen backs, Tony Romano, Bill Smith, Bob Driscoll, and Ernie Zeno will be a show in themselves. At least two of the four are sure all-scholastics. Their two ace linemen Specs Tarant and Sam Rizzo will be out to stop ace Tiger forward wall smasher Capt. Marv Meirowitz.
- (4) Newton wants to win.
- (5) It will be the final appearance before the home folks for Meirowitz, and Chuckie Bryson, the two game Newton athletes last season. One represents the backfield, the other the line. Waltham will have enough to face against these two lads.
- (6) Johnny Recco, ace Tiger back, but out of work since the Melrose maul returns to the scene of battle where he last shone on the turf.

Rindge's return performance is against Waltham. What greater day could Newton ask for?

Remember Me?

I'M THE BOY you used to know in Newton, the one who delivered groceries from your favorite store.

Well, I'm a soldier now—and darned proud of it. But it was tough at first. I'd never been away from home before and the going wasn't easy.

Then I found the USO! Believe me, that's the soldiers' friend. Easy chairs to sit in, coffee and cookies like Mother used to make, a place to read and write in quiet and to meet the same decent kind of girl I knew at home.

That's why I say we servicemen owe you folks a lot. You've made the USO possible. The dollars you give come closest to making a home away from home.

Keep up the good work, will you? When you're asked to give this year, dig a little deeper. I'm sure you won't let me -- or any of us -- down.

Supporting the USO is only one of the many things you do when you give to the United War Fund in Newton. That part of the money given to the National War Fund helps War Prisoners, Merchant Seamen, our fighting Allies everywhere, and brings hope to the oppressed.

But there is a home front that must be aided too. It is a battlefield all its own. Along with the Greater Boston Community Fund, the Newton Community Chest must have money to do the work. The ill, handicapped, the aged, the less fortunate—all depend upon your generosity, so do the health and welfare of many Newton boys and girls as well.

Remember these things when you are asked to contribute. Decide now to GIVE BECAUSE YOU CARE and GIVE regularly during 1944 to the

LETTER TO EDITOR

Dear Sir:

One of the pleasing aspects of the Opening Dinner of the Community Chest last Thursday night was the distribution of the "Graphic" and the special features on the Community Chest which we were able to get out through your cooperation.

This added very much to the various features of the evening, and I want you to know that the officers of the Chest and myself very much appreciate your help.

Yours truly,

Charles B. Floyd, in commenting on the Campaign, makes this statement: "An effort is being made this year to the end that every resident, every business, and every employee in Newton will be called on for a contribution. Possibly there are some who will not have been called on by the time this appears in the press. If you are one of these and no one has called upon you, it will be very much appreciated if you will call the Newton Community Chest Office, LAS 5120, and ask to have a volunteer call, or if you will mail your subscription to the Chest office, 93 Union st. This campaign is to provide help and comfort to the boys in the service and to take care of the health and social agencies in our community, as well as War Prisoners, refugees from war torn Europe, relief for seamen, and to give aid to citizens of our allied countries. With such all inclusive campaign, it is my opinion that everyone will want to make a contribution. We are anxious that an opportunity is given to all who want to help."

Report of City
Wide Gardens

Purpose

The aim of the entire nutrition, gardening and preservation program of Newton was to assist beginners in gardening, and in the preservation of all surplus fruits and vegetables.

Nutrition

Since the Red Cross and the Health Department were so well organized and equipped to handle the Nutrition courses, it seemed advisable to have this part of the program remain in their hands. The Red Cross in co-operation with the Health Department gave adequate courses throughout the city.

Gardening

Early in March a pamphlet was prepared and distributed to every household in the City of Newton, giving full information on exactly how the Victory Garden project would operate. Community garden meetings were held in Waban, Oak Hill, Newton, and Newtonville with Professors William R. Cole and Paul Dempsey conducting these meetings. They were well attended by "seasoned" gardeners as well as beginners. At that time valuable information was given on what to plant, when, where, how; also the names of plowmen who were available in each vicinity, where to buy seeds and plants, what kind of fertilizer was best suited for individual needs; pest control, soil test, etc.

Such information was extremely helpful to the beginner, as we all know that it takes many years of planting and digging to acquire this knowledge. Leaflet 59, "Home Vegetable Garden", issued by the Massachusetts Extension Service, was distributed to all meetings. The local public libraries were most helpful and co-operative in aiding us to distribute this pamphlet; and later, notices of our canning demonstrations which were held all over the city.

On the whole, the gardens were most successful. The count of individual gardens in each of the thirteen villages is as follows:

Auburndale	705
Chestnut Hill	93
Newton	841
Newtonville	1065
Newton Centre	1292
Newton Highlands	590
Newton Lower Falls	39
Nonantum	688
Oak Hill	510
Quincy	400
West Hill	300
West Newton	902
Community Plots	375
Total	7802

For those not having garden space of their own, the city sponsored several community plots. There was a total of 375 individual garden permits issued for these plots.

During the summer, Miss Dorothea Harrison, County Garden Supervisor from the Extension Service, came to Newton, and together we made an inspection tour of the Community plots and of some individual gardens. Miss Harrison was impressed with the showing Newton had made and commented upon the care, appearance, and variety of the crops in spite of a very difficult growing season.

Through the Art and the English Departments, the schools used the theme, "Safety to the Victory Gardens," for posters and compositions. The posters were made in the lower grades by children ranging in age from nine to twelve years. The outstanding posters have been used throughout the canning demonstrations, at several garden club meetings, the Public Libraries, and as an exhibit at the Harvest Show of the Newton Centre Women's Club.

Preservation
Mrs. Edgar Burkhardt of Newton was Co-Chairman in this phase of the work. Mrs. Burkhardt gave unsparingly of her time and effort to assist all who were referred to her for help and advice with their canning problems.

There were two plans presented for this part of the program.
1. To open a Community Canning Kitchen similar to those operating in other communities.
2. To hold a series of demonstrations, showing the steps taken from the time vegetables or fruits were taken from the garden to the actual processing—or finished product—ready to store in the preserve closet.

We chose the demonstrations, as it seemed a fitting and proper time to try to help people to help themselves, rather than to have the work done for them. The results were well worth while. During May and June, demonstrations were held at the local women's clubs and church kitchens.

During July and August, the Junior High School Domestic Science rooms were available. Mrs. Bishop of the Red Cross furnished us with two Nutrition aides for each demonstration. They helped in preparing fruits and vegetables, assisted in the actual canning process and distributed a pamphlet—Leaflet No. 142, "Home Canning," issued by the Extension Service. There were 25 demonstrations throughout the City, the total attendance being 1300. We feel sure that each person attending one of these demonstrations was able to help several of her neighbors.

The spirit of co-operation and neighborhood has been marked in and in most cases mutually profitable. People have discovered that it is fun to garden and exciting to can.

There are many methods of canning, but the Extension Service recommended the water-bath process as the simplest method of preserving. Remember that the aim of the entire program was to assist beginners.

Miss Edith West, County Home

Demonstration Agent, conducted many of the demonstrations. These meetings were entirely informal. Each person had an opportunity to discuss her personal canning problems and receive the information to solve her difficulties. No question was too unimportant to receive full attention. To this individual attention we attribute much of the success of the canning project. Other meetings were conducted by experts from the Extension Service.

There is no way of knowing the number of jars that have already been processed in Newton, but if the fact that not a single pint jar could be found on the shelves of the local dealers is any criterion, it can be said that every nook and cranny in all of the households must be bulging.

Food Storage
The Extension Service issued pamphlets on this subject that were most useful to home owners who wished information on how to store vegetables and how to build a cold closet or how to improvise one. This information was given out during the last weeks of the canning demonstrations. A representative from the Extension Service was available to go to the individual homes to help with the actual problems confronting any of our citizens.

It has been a most satisfactory program from all angles that we are still in the initial stage—we have completed our first step and with experience as an implement, we can look forward to a bigger and better year in 1944.

WAC RECRUITING DRIVE IN
NEWTON

Lt. Olga M. Thompson of the WACS who was in Newton last April on a recruiting mission, is again in Newton and will be here until Dec. 7 for the "All States" WAC Drive. Their headquarters will be at the Garden City Radio Company, 295 Walnut st., Newtonville. Various sections of Newton will be covered, and a schedule of visits and locations will be announced at a later date.

The drive is being conducted to recruit 70,000 women in the United States of which the Massachusetts quota is well over 2000. The recruits will replace men who are replacing casualties in action.

On Lt. Thompson's previous visit to Newton last spring, she made a host of friends and acquaintances who will be glad to talk with her again.

International Secretary Of Rotarians Speaks

"The conservation of private enterprise, the guarding against inflation, being careful that controls established in an emergency do not become permanent, the practical job of Rotarians in the 5,000 clubs all over the world" was the keynote of a message by Philip Lovejoy, Secretary of Rotary International, at a talk before one of the most distinguished gatherings of Rotarians ever presented in Newton at their luncheon yesterday at the Brae Burn Club.

Philip Lovejoy

Mr. Lovejoy is serving his second year as general secretary of Rotary International, having been assistant general secretary of that organization since 1930. In the intervening years he was active manager of twelve international Rotary assemblies held in Austria, Canada, Cuba, Mexico, Switzerland and the United States, and he served in practically every part of the central office of the secretariat of Rotary International.

He is a graduate of the University of Michigan with degrees of A.B. and A.M. He was a personnel officer in the American Expeditionary Forces in 1917 and 1918. After World War I he held numerous educational positions in the State of Michigan, U.S.A. In 1930 he left the position of Assistant Superintendent of Schools in Hamtramck, Michigan, where he was in charge of Finance, Public Relations and Child Accounting, to join the staff of Rotary International.

He has had extensive experience in various types of business which he has served usually as personnel officer or in an executive managerial capacity. He has written extensively for educational magazines and at one time was on the editorial board of "Nation's Schools."

Discuss Dec. 5 Church Canvass

Tuesday evening, Nov. 16, at the First Baptist Church in Newton, Newton Centre, the Newton Ministers' Association, the Executive Committee for the Newton United Church Canvass for 1943 and the financial chairman of Newton's thirty-three churches met for dinner and to hear the details of the campaign leading up to the every-member canvass to be conducted on Sunday, Dec. 5. Rev. W. Henry Shillington, president of the Newton Ministers' Association presided and after disposing of the regular business of the Association turned the meeting over to Richard H. Wright, general chairman for the 1943 Canvass.

Mr. Wright presented the plans for the Canvass to the ministers and the financial chairmen of their churches and stated that this year's plans have been simplified due to Newton's experience in the two previous campaigns and that interest and enthusiasm for United campaigns are gaining impetus both in Newton and nationally.

Raise New Flag For Service Son

A unique commemoration of the birthday of a son who is in the European Area, overseas, Corporal Milton A. Hall, was held at his home 152 Charlesbank rd., Newton, on Saturday, Nov. 13.

When he left home he raised his flag and told his mother to keep it flying and keep on smiling until he came home. After eighteen months service the flag was badly worn, and had to be replaced. His parents Mr. and Mrs. Hall felt they would like to have the new flag officially raised, therefore six overseas service men were invited to participate, assisted by the Rev. W. Henry Shillington of the Newton Upper Falls, Methodist Church. When the worn flag was removed from the staff by two infantry men, carefully folded by two sailors and handed to the mother, Mr. Shillington remarked that it was the most beautiful tribute made by a mother to an absent son on his birthday in which he ever had officiated. As the new flag unfurled, the infantry and navy boys stood at attention, saluting, when Mr. Shillington offered a brief prayer for our boys over there.

After which dinner was served. The dining room was beautifully decorated with the national colors, each boy receiving a favor, and a pleasant time was had by all.

HUNNEWELL CLUB

The Fall season is well underway for the club. In October a square dance was well attended with enthusiastic demand for an other soon.

Saturday night, Nov. 13, Family Supper was attended by about 90 members and guests. Travel pictures of England and Europe a few months before the war with very old Charlie Chaplin films followed by a bowling match for grown ups and children proved a popular evening.

Mayor Issues Proclamation On Seal Campaign

A proclamation urging the public to support the "national offensive against tuberculosis" was issued by Mayor Paul M. Goddard in connection with the Christmas Seal campaign in Newton.

The mayor urged all citizens to buy and use the seals. The proclamation follows:

"The annual Christmas Seal Campaign gives us the opportunity to share in the National offensive against tuberculosis. From year to year we are constantly striving to alleviate the suffering from this disease, and funds are needed in order that our efforts in this undertaking shall not be relaxed for a single moment.

"The purchase and use of Christmas Seals requires little sacrifice from us individually, but the total contributions provide a powerful force to combat tuberculosis. Your co-operation this year means that Newton will again do its share."

Dr. Percy Killed In Accident

Dr. Karlton Goodsell Percy, 57, 16 Circuit rd., Brookline, was accidentally killed on Monday as he was returning from a pheasant hunt on the Wiswall and Esty Farms at Oak Hill, when he tripped over a wire which was partially buried in a gravel pit. A discharge from his .16 gauge shot gun entered his chest, killing him instantly. Dr. Thomas Morrison, medical examiner, pronounced death due to accidental shooting.

Dr. Percy had been accompanied by his setter dog, which remained on guard of his master. When the doctor failed to return to his home, his wife became alarmed and went out to search for him. When she found his car parked on Wiswall rd., she called to the setter who came to meet her and led her to where her husband fell.

Dr. Percy was a podiatrist with offices on Commonwealth ave., Boston. He was the son of late Dr. Frederick B. Percy. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Margaret E. Percy, a son, Capt. George Eno Percy, U.S. Army; a daughter, Mrs. Charles A. Pingree of Concord; his mother, Mrs. Frederick B. Percy of Brookline; a sister, Mrs. W. W. Duffett of Brookline, and a brother, Major Donald Percy of New York.

AUBURNDALE REVIEW CLUB

A meeting of unusual interest was held on Tuesday, Nov. 16, at Mrs. Tenney's on Woodland rd. Mrs. William P. Roberts reviewed the life of Nehru and made everyone feel better acquainted with this wonderful man of India.

Mrs. Earle Wood's subject was "Poetry in War Time." She read a variety of poems—some were reminiscent, some emotional, and still others humorous.

A collection of war time poems has been published in one volume, and the proceeds from the sale of this book are to be divided between the O. S. O. and the Red Cross.

Lt. Russell P. Liscomb, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Francis Liscomb of 178 Cabot st., Newton, is one of 60 Bay State flyers who have been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross for the part in the air raid on the Ploesti oil fields in Rumania on August 1. He was graduated from Newton High School and enlisted in the Army Air Forces February, 1942. He received his wings and commission as a second lieutenant in February, 1943, at an Army Air Field in Arizona. He was sent overseas soon after spending a leave at home last April. In his last letter to his parents, Lt. Liscomb told of his participation in the Ploesti raid, but did not reveal the receipt of the decoration.

Japan's Chances Are Discussed

"Japan's Chances" is the engaging topic of Miss Avery's next lecture in a series of twelve being given in the Community Playhouse in Wellesley Hills at 10:30 a.m. on alternate Wednesday mornings.

The enthusiasm of her audience is only equalled by the challenging character of Miss Avery's subjects and her method of presentation.

Amount Reported Up To Tuesday Night Is 81% Of Chest Fund Goal

With $244,500 reported through Tuesday in the Newton Community Chest Campaign for the Greater Boston United War Fund, Newton has reached 81% of its quota. The Campaign in Newton closes next Tuesday, November 23, so that $58,300 is still needed to reach Newton's goal of $302,800.

Each of the divisions reports as follows: Residential 86% of its quota; Municipal 86%; Mercantile 85%; Advance Gifts 79%; Manufacturing 30%; with the total goal being 81% attained. Newton Upper Falls is the first village in the Residential Division to reach 100% while Chestnut Hill with 98%, Auburndale with 97%, Newton Lower Falls with 95% and Newton Highlands with 93% are not far behind. The rest of the villages report as follows: Newton Centre 86%, Waban 83%, Newtonville 77%, Newton 76%, West Newton 75%, Nonantum 64%, Waban Hill 61% and Oak Hill 58%.

Each of the villages is striving to go over the top by Friday night of this week, and Lawrence B. Damon, Residential Chairman, is confident that, with the continued devotion of his 2,000 volunteer workers to the cause, his division will reach its quota of $115,000 by that time.

In the Advance Gifts Division, Auburndale leads with 96% of its quota reached, followed by Newtonville with 95%, Newton Highlands 90%, Waban 85%, Newton 81%, Newton Centre 77%, West Newton 75% and Oak Hill 70%.

Daniel E. Watson, Chairman of the Advance Gifts Division reports that a number of larger givers have not turned in their pledges yet and he is making every effort, through his village chairman, to have all of these people contacted before the week-end to get their subscription in and is confident that his quota of $145,000 will be reached.

The school section of the Municipal Division has reported 100% of its quota as have the Executive Department and Ration Board in the General Division, with many of the other departments running between 75% and 90%.

A. A. Robertson, Chairman of the Municipal Division is confident that his division will reach its quota of $10,000.

The Mercantile Division has reported substantial gains all along the line with Auburndale, Newton, Newton Centre, Newton Highlands, Newtonville, Waban, and West Newton over the top. In this division also Special Accounts and Bank Employees have gone well over 100% of their quotas, and the other sections are aiming to reach their goals by Saturday of this week.

The total quota of this Division is $15,000 and Mrs. Edgar S. Burkhardt, Chairman, is striving to lead the other divisions in reaching her goal.

The manufacturing Division has already turned in a substantial portion of its subscriptions. A number of the larger corporations have not as yet reported their contributions and employee subscriptions are usually not reported until close to the end of the Campaign to give the solicitation organization ample time to cover all employees. Vincent C. Stanley, Chairman, expects, with the usual fine cooperation of the manufacturing concerns and their employees, that his quota of $20,000 will be exceeded by the closing night on Tuesday.

A special meeting of Residential Village Chairmen has been called for Thursday night to make a survey of all prospects whose cards have not been turned in, and a special drive will be put on Friday, Saturday and Sunday to get every outstanding card covered in that period. On Friday, Daniel E. Watson is calling a meeting of his cabinet to make a similar survey of the prospects in the Advance Gifts Division not reported so that the week-end may be devoted to reaching their goal. A. Robertson and his assistant, Malcolm Warren, are working with the department chairmen in the Municipal General Division to get the balance of their outstanding pledges turned in and Mrs. Burkhardt, Mercantile Chairman with the assistance of Harry H. Kay, Advisory Chairman, and Frank Hackett, Assistant Advisory Chairman, is endeavoring through the village and section chairmen to prospect every store and employee by Friday.

At the report luncheon held in Boston Monday, Nov. 15, Newton was tenth among the 32 Metropolitan cities and towns with 65.4% of its quota reported. At that time the Greater Boston United War Fund had in hand slightly over $3,750,000, or 50.6% of its goal of $7,500,000. Joseph T. Walker, Jr., General Chairman, reported at that meeting that the Campaign was lagging and that much time and energy must be put in by the volunteer organization if the final goal is to be reached.

At the Wednesday report luncheon in Boston, Dr. Herbert Gezork of Newton, who was the principal speaker at the Opening Dinner of the Newton Community Chest addressed the meeting. Dr. Gezork made another telling appeal, and the Greater Boston volunteer organization in attendance agreed that Dr. Gezork made one of the finest talks ever heard in connection with the general Campaign.

The closing night of the Newton Campaign will be symbolized by a meeting of the volunteer workers at the Chest office, 33 Union st., Newton Centre, next Tuesday evening, when final reports will be received. The Greater Boston Campaign will close with a dinner meeting at the Hotel Statler on Wednesday evening, Nov. 24.

Pass Resolution In Memory Of Rev. Sheridan

At the November meeting of the Board of Directors of the Family Service Bureau of Newton, Inc., the following resolution was adopted in memory of the late Reverend John A. Sheridan.

BE IT RESOLVED by the Board of Directors of the Family Service Bureau that it records with deepest sorrow the loss of one of its most faithful members, the Reverend Father John A. Sheridan.

Father Sheridan had been a resident of Newton for only eight years, yet by his unflinching interest in men and affairs, by his compassionate understanding of human frailties and human greatness, he had become in that short time one of the community's most beloved and respected citizens.

Always an enthusiastic and tireless worker in these Newton agencies of which he was a member of the Board, his broad vision and kindly touch were felt by many other agencies throughout the city, and were a source of help, inspiration and stability in untold community activities.

Father Sheridan was one of those rare people in whom the broad horizons and adventure of youth were linked with the sound judgment and understanding of the mature man. He was truly the embodiment of these lines of Robert Browning's:

"Grow old along with me
The best is yet to be,
The last of life for which the fight was made."

Fat Salvage Is Vitrally Needed

In a statewide appeal in behalf of the fat salvage program, Governor Leverett Saltonstall exhorted householders, hotels, restaurants and other institutions to save every spoonful of used kitchen fats for the war effort.

"I cannot urge too strongly the importance of this program," Governor Saltonstall said. "Under this program every kitchen in the state has become a potential arsenal of democracy. The holidays just ahead present a splendid opportunity for saving every ounce of fat from which is made glycerine for explosives and medicines to heal the wounds of our boys."

"I am confident that Massachusetts can and will do a creditable job in aiding this program. In behalf of the fighting men of our state, I appeal for your support of this salvage program as another gesture of your effort to bring a speedy victory and peace."

War Bonds should mean something more to you than just "a good sound investment." Figure it out yourself.

POLITICS WITH COLOR

By P. W. C.

The Police Commissioner

Many of my readers have doubtless wondered what caused the sudden burst of pro-Timothy sentiment in the Boston papers over the past week-end. Presumably the reason for all this fanfare was that certain politicians whose ears were very close to the ground came to the conclusion that there was at least an even chance that Governor Saltonstall had decided to appoint a new man to this vitally important post. What surprises me is that this possibility did not occur to the insiders a long time ago. Anybody who stops to think about the situation at all must know that the present Commissioner has been laboring under a terrific handicap ever since the two indictments against him were quashed. Just one indictment would be enough to finish some people; two indictments in rather quick succession quite naturally caused a lifting of eyebrows, even among the politically uninformed. Many citizens reasoned that where there was so much smoke there must be a fire. Of course, that is not always true.

Now, assuming that a new Commissioner MAY be appointed, let us consider briefly some of the possibilities. A rather popular choice would be Col. Thomas F. Sullivan, one of Boston's most respected and respected public servants. Rumor has it that his health is none too good and that the Commissioner's post might well be too strenuous for him. Another popular suggestion was a prominent Republican who has served the state in many varied capacities, namely, Col. George A. Parker of Boston, until recently a member of the Legislature and prior to that, Registrar of Motor Vehicles and organizer of the original State Constabulary, now known as the State Police. Col. Parker, an old friend of our columnist, is currently at Fort Devens in an important capacity and has shrugged off inquiries lately with the brief comment, "I'm in the Army now." Then, one of Boston's better-known columnists has been conducting a quiet campaign to secure the Commissioner's post for State Treasurer Francis X. Hurley. One of the arguments advanced here is that Hurley's removal from the Treasurer's job would give the Governor the opportunity to give the job to a former State Senator Laurence Curtis of the Back Bay. This does not seem like a very good bet to me. Incidentally, there has been the suggestion that Curtis himself might conceivably be appointed Police Commissioner. I doubt it. Also, the name of Reginald L. Shattuck, formerly Treasurer of Harvard University, has been seriously considered. The chief objection to this suggestion appears to be that Mr. Shattuck has other plans, as, for example, becoming Speaker of the House on Beacon Hill. After all, Mr. Shattuck has already lived a long and extremely useful life and has been devoted to public service. It would be asking a good deal to take on the Police job at this stage of the game.

Frankly, now that my two original guesses appear to be out of the running (Messrs. Sullivan and Parker), I am as much in the dark as anyone. I will, however, hazard the guess that a new Commissioner WILL be appointed, despite these last-minute frantic attempts on the part of Mr. Timothy's friends to save his job for him.

Helpful Mr. Hamilton

It is safe to say that most of us prefer to see a prominent public man devote his time, energy and money to some constructive purpose. Tearing down cannot be favorably compared to building up, especially if the cause is far from worthy. This blunt statement is caused by the current activities of John D. M. Hamilton, a former Chairman of the Republican National Committee. He is now busily engaged in a tour of several important states, where he is admittedly doing everything in his power to block the candidacy of Wendell L. Willkie for President in 1944. Isn't that a noble cause for which to labor? If he cannot do a better job than he did in 1936, when his candidate, Alfred M. Landon, suffered one of the most ignominious defeats in G. O. P. history, he may not harm Willkie very much. Unfortunately, however, there are always thousands who seem to work with much more enthusiasm to DEFEAT a candidate than to ELECT some other candidate. Hamilton, of course, has the advantage of working among a group of Republican die-hards who never did and never will see anything worth while about Willkie. About all they have against him is that he was once a Democrat and that he is currently deemed to have admitted that Mr. Roosevelt has done a great many fine things, especially in connection with the prosecution of the war. Also, Willkie is independent, frank and fearless. That in itself bars him from serious consideration as a Presidential nominee. Consequently, we now witness the rather disgusting spectacle of fiery Mr. Hamilton running around the country, doing his best to destroy the ONLY substantial Republican candidate in sight. Hamilton's slogan appears to be, "Let's LOSE with a nonentity rather than WIN with Wendell L. Willkie." I wish you lots of bad luck, Hamilton.

P. W. C.

Washington — Cordell Hull returned from the Moscow Conference acclaimed as a world statesman. The muse of history will be permitted a little satisfaction in writing in the chronicle of World War II that the pact our venerable Secretary of State signed in Moscow was another milestone in man's progress toward "government of the people—by the people...."

And let it be remembered, to Hull's credit, that the Moscow Declaration which was heartily endorsed by the Congress of the United States as well as the great majority of Americans, are in general, correct. The impression of views long held by Cordell Hull and set forth clearly by him in two radio addresses in July and September as the United States' foreign policy.

The comparatively few "Americans" who think that they can evade military service are in for a hard awakening.

Under new orders issued by the Selective Service Bureau, local boards throughout the country are classifying delinquents in 1-A and ordering them to report for induction immediately, regardless of claims for occupational or dependency deferment. Those who fail to report within five days have their names turned over to the F. B. I. for action.

Incidentally, it may be well for those who counted on sitting the war out to remember that J. Edgar Hoover's department is functioning as efficiently as always and that the 6,036 persons picked up thus far and found guilty of draft violations have received sentences totaling 14,102 years and fines of more than $670,000,000.

Insiders tell us that this will be a winter of pleasant surprises if our pace in war material production is kept at the highest level. Hitler, they say, may be ousted before spring and if not, the Allies will close in for the kill before Easter 1944. In the meantime, the entire Reich will be blasted from the air by night and day, while the Red Army continues its successful offensive in the East. Military experts look for the early collapse of all remaining Axis satellites. Turkey is then expected to join the Allies for a drive up the Balkans and into Germany proper.

Experts are about evenly divided in their opinions of how the war will end. One group believes that an already hopeless German populace will rise against its Nazi rulers and give the army an opening to do likewise. The other group feels that the internal collapse of Germany depends on our ability to lick its armies and drive them back into their own country. This last assumption is held by most military men.

On the post-election front G. O. P. leaders insist that New York's Tom Dewey will yield to a draft movement as party money men are reported swinging over to the boyish Governor. Wendell Willkie, however, is continuing his vigorous cross-country campaigning and making headway. Bricker, considered a very dark horse at present, will try to gain Southern delegates.

This month's local Republican victories have made Democrats realize that vigorous efforts are necessary to patch up all state and local squabbles to eventually strengthen the national ticket. The rest of the year's squabbles is best demonstrated by the poor showing made by the Democrats in New York State under the anti-Roosevelt leadership of Jim Farley.

ON SAVING FUEL: The United States Bureau of Mines finds that table salt thrown on a furnace fire reduces soot formation and thus saves fuel. Householders who have found it necessary to hand-clean surfaces of their heaters two or three times a week throw one or two cupsful of salt on the fire every day and reported a decided reduction in soot.

Salt vaporizes at high temperatures and forms a vapor which settles on the surface of the soot. This lowers the ignition temperature of the soot and enables it to burn away more readily.

WALTER PIERCE REPORTS: Certain world-traveling members of Congress were really worried when the Administration staged its own world tour with Cordell Hull in Moscow, Morgenthau in Italy and Frank Knox and Henry Stimson in North Africa. The results obtained by these last mentioned "globetrotters" positively made those Congressmen ill. American soldiers in Italy and Sicily are being enabled to live on whatever "fat" remains in those lands. A private's pay of $50 a month amounts to 5,000 lire—at the present rate of exchange, the equivalent of an Italian minister's monthly stipend. Anglo-American Russian plans on post-war economic problems are beginning to take concrete form and should make important news soon. Only a year ago Stalin's proclamations were taken by many American politicians as just so much "red" hot air. Today he is respectfully listened to by the most rabid anti-bolsheviks. Unknown to General De Gaulle a silent purge of top-ranking De Gaulleists attached to the U. S. Delegation of the French Committee for National Liberation is under way here. The arrival in this country of Charles Roux, an aide-de-camp to De Gaulle, will put an

To the Editor:

You have been good enough to print letters in your paper dated Sept. 20, Oct. 7, Oct. 21 and Nov. 11, upon the traffic hazard problem at Cleveland Circle where the Middlesex and Boston buses connect with the Boston Elevated trolley cars. Each had a different angle as the information was available.

We visited the Circle on the way into Boston this morning and upon alighting from the bus we found that the surface was quite slippery and noticed one person going with great care to dodge the traffic as well as the icy spots. We also had the pleasure of seeing the modernization that the Elevated was doing in the former A. J. Morey Drug Store located at 1942 Beacon st. It will be quite convenient for the bus travelers, but the only fly in the ointment is that the M. & B. buses stop upon the Western side of the Circle and every one must trek across the traffic and two slippery filling stations. The water from filling the cars runs down and freezes quite often.

This new waiting room will probably have toilet facilities which will be quite helpful to many travelers. This should do away with the need for the proposed shelter upon the park land where the buses now stop. But it might be built if thought necessary, as the main thought should be for the extension of the permit to the M. & B. buses to cross the Circle and land the passengers at the new waiting room. Why cannot the extension be granted to the M. & B. buses? The location is all in Boston, although some think it is in Brighton—But Brighton is in Boston. Let us hope that the extension can be granted before real cold weather comes, thus relieving the terrible slippery walking and traffic congestion at the Circle. Just extend the permit for the buses across the Circle.

Lt. Hale Killed In Action

The War Department on Monday officially announced that Lt. Robert W. Hale, U. S. Army Air Forces, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hale, of 10 Harrington st., Newtonville, had been killed in action in the Southwest Pacific.

Lt. Hale, who was 26 years of age, and pilot of a B-25 Billy Mitchell bomber, died on Oct. 24 in a bombing raid over Rabaul, according to the telegram received by his parents. He enlisted as an aviation cadet in March, 1942, and was commissioned and received his wings at Blytheville, Arkansas, in January of this year. He went overseas in July.

A graduate of the Natick High School where he was a star athlete, Lt. Hale also attended Cushing Academy and Rhode Island State College where he played on the football, baseball and basketball teams.

Besides his parents he is survived by five brothers, Capt. Nathan Hale of Fort Custer, Michigan; Lt. Ralph D. Hale at Charleston, S. C.; Aviation Cadet Edward J. Hale at Athens, Ga.; Pemberton Hale of Natick and Paul S. Hale of Auburndale; also four sisters, Ruth, Barbara and Elizabeth Hale of Newtonville and Lucy Hale of Rowley. His father is employed by the Boston and Albany Railroad.

A personal letter from Gen. Douglas MacArthur has been received by Mrs. Hale in which he expressed sympathy at her bereavement and paid a glowing tribute to her son. The letter read as follows:

"I cannot express to you the poignancy of my regret at the death of your son, Lieut. Robert L. Hale.

"His service under me was characterized by his complete and unswerving devotion to our beloved country and he died in the name of freedom and liberty.

"Among his comrades in arms he is ensnared in our country's imperishable glory.

"Faithfully yours,

"Douglas MacArthur."

The letter was written on stationery with the printed heading, "General Headquarters, Southwest Pacific."

Kiwanis Activities

RECORD KIWANIS ATTENDANCE

The One Hundred Per Cent Attendance Meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club held on Tuesday, Nov. 16th, really produced one hundred per cent. President "Jim" Riggs congratulated "Bill" Jassett, Chairman of the Attendance Committee on the fine showing.

George Van Buskirk introduced Lt. Olga Thompson of the WAC, who spoke about the work of the WAC. Miss Thompson was born in Newton Centre and had a personal interest in servicemen and servicewomen from Newton. She spoke about the forthcoming National Drive to secure 70,000 new WACS in seven days. She said she believed that fathers should not be drafted but should remain at home with their families, and she spoke about how the WACS are able to replace men sent to the front. Miss Thompson asked for the Club's cooperation in recruiting the needed volunteers.

"Ed" Derocier inducted two new members—"Bob" Blackington and "Andy" Murray. Singing was led by Jack Janse who invited three members in to making up a quartet with Lt. Thompson.

"Ben" Louis reported on the progress made toward the publishing of a news bulletin to go to servicemen overseas. He said that the Rotary Club has agreed to share with Kiwanis in the expense and effort involved in connection with such a news sheet. He urged the Club to back up the project.

Mr. Louis also announced that the program next week would be of a humorous nature and each member should come prepared for a good laugh. The showing of three motion pictures obtained through the efforts of Wilfred Chagnon. The first reel showed the invasion of Italy by the Fifth Army, and also the surrender of Italy. This reel was remarkable in that it depicted scenes very seldom shown. The second reel was a colored scene picture of Mexico, and the third picture was a musical in three parts.

Someone remarked as the group broke up, "We had one hundred per cent today—why not do it more often?"

This WEEK, This WORLD

—by Ted Friend—

IT LOOKS LIKE a long war but there may be surprises if the Americans, British and Russians keep pounding away.

It will be recalled that on October 25, 1918, which was just 17 days before Germany's complete surrender, the commander of the British forces, General Haig, said, "Germany is not yet broken militarily. Her army retreats in full order, showing great staunchness in action."

On October 31, 1918, just 11 days before German capitulation, Marshal Foch declared, "The German Army is still strong."

For the moment, Germany, which "blitzed" the Maginot Line, is babbling about its "Westwall" and "Festung Europa," but when Hitler goes into a tailspin it will be at a velocity approximating what Mussolini experienced on his exit from the world scene.

There are indications that Germany's ersatz state is not doing too well, what with Russian attack in the East and American and British pressure and bombing in the West. Six more months of hammering may do the trick. In any case there is no need to be taken in by German bluster relating to its so-called impregnable continental position. Like so much that has stemmed from Berlin in recent years, that may be designated as typical pap and propaganda.

When Germany begins caving in we may be sure that she will carry through at a great speed.

FRANCE HAS PAID dearly for her pre-war listening to the Fascist wilds of the Nazis, 135,000 killed in battle; 55,000 shot as hostages; 100,000 dead by mistreatment in prison camps; 1,000,000 children starved to death; 2,000,000 prisoners of war and slave laborers; and billions in indemnities. It is to be doubted if France's isolationists will ever require a sterner lesson.

WHAT THE GERMANS can do to a standard of living once they really get to work on it is exemplified in what 100 Polish Zlotys ($20) can buy today under the whip-lash of the Gestapo as against the year 1939.

England and Russia! One wonders if a visit to our chief allies might not have been in order on any fact-finding mission relating to the war.

EMBARASSING QUOTATIONS DEPARTMENT: "Germany, Italy and Japan, with their surface vessels and their submarines, are in a position to cut through the most important sea communications of their enemies. Thus they can and will deprive the world of freedom of action." Volkischer Beobachter (Dr. Dietrich, October 27, 1942).

IF PLANS SUPPORTED in Washington materialize, the United States will never again be caught short in the matter of supplies vital to its existence. Moreover, the solution of the strategic materials problem will also bring the United States and its Latin-American neighbors closer together both economically and politically.

In brief, the United States is making efforts to have the tropical countries adjacent to it develop agricultural industries which will in considerable measure replace the Dutch East Indies, the Malay States and other South Pacific territories as exclusive sources of supply.

If Washington achieves its objectives, rubber will come from Brazil, Colombia and Bolivia. Abaca, which is the raw material from which Manila rope is made, will be imported from Panama and Costa Rica; rotenone, the insecticide base, will come from Puerto Rico and Honduras, and quinine from Mexico, Haiti, Dominican Republic and other new world countries.

It is clear that it will take a goodly number of years before these countries can supply the United States with quantities of tropical products adequate for its industrial and defensive needs. The wild rubber trees of Brazil, from which the original East Indies stock was developed, must be tamed and cultivated. We will require some 30,000 acres of planted Abaca to supplement the 2000 acres which have thus far been put to cultivation in Panama. The supplies of quinine, both synthetic and natural, now available from Mexico is but a fraction of what the United States requires. So, likewise, rotenone, cocoa, palm nut, essential oils, spices and other tropical products.

But the United States is on its way and unless obstructions prevent, the next two decades will find it well in the clear as relates to strategic materials.

NEWTON DISTRICT NURSING ASSOCIATION

The Board of Directors of the Newton District Nursing Association were interested to learn at the November meeting, that through the Well Baby Conferences, more and more mothers are becoming aware of the need of inoculations against communicable disease, and that more "Patch" tests are being used in the field of prevention of tuberculosis. It is encouraging to see advances made along these lines.

Miss Hilga Nelson, Executive Director, reported to the Board, about her attending the Conferences in New York City, held under the auspices of the American Public Health Association. In regard to the field of Public Health nursing in general, it was felt that this service must keep in step with the times and that the thinking will have to be done, not on local or national, but on world lines. More and more work will be unloaded onto this field where there is already a lessening of personnel to carry the burden. In one of the conferences, Mayor Laguardia brought out the interesting fact that in New York City, there are nearly 100,000 children who will accommodate 900 incoming and outgoing planes within twenty-four hours. In this event, the public will realize that, with the rest of the world within a few hours of our doors, Public Health must be ready to cope with what contagious diseases these planes can bring to us.

- 4 Now is the time to have your heating system inspected. Don't wait for cold weather.
- 5 Winterize your home now by insulating and weather-stripping. It not only keeps your home warmer in winter but cooler in summer.

General Alarm Sounded For Fire At Church Here

A general alarm was sounded late Monday night for a fire which caused damage estimated at $100,000 to the Church of the Messiah located at the corner of Auburn st. and Commonwealth ave., Auburndale.

Shortly after 10:30 p. m. Mrs. E. G. Appelt of 158 Auburn st., who was taking her dog for a walk, heard an explosion which was followed by flames bursting from the windows of the church. She went to her home and telephoned the fire department and at about the same time a box alarm was sounded by Harold Farrar of 26 Normandy rd., who was passing by on his way home.

When the fire department arrived in response to the first alarm the fire had spread so rapidly that the interior of the church was all ablaze. Deputy Chief Francis Linnehan ordered a second alarm at 10:39 and at 10:42 Chief John L. Keating ordered a third alarm.

Fire departments from Wellesley, Waltham and Needham rendered assistance in fighting the fire while apparatus from Brighton, Watertown and Brookline covered in at the Newton, Newtonville and Newton Centre stations.

The fire was under control by midnight but it was 4:15 a. m. before the "all-out" could be sounded. The flames which could be seen for many miles attracted a number of motorists to the scene. Several members of the police force were on duty to divert the traffic from the vicinity of the fire.

For about half an hour after the fire was discovered an illuminated cross on the front of the church remained lighted. Records which were in the safe in the office of the rector were saved but the Honor Roll of members of the church who are in the Armed Forces was destroyed by the flames.

The church which was of brownstone construction was built 50 years ago. The parish house which adjoined the church and which also was destroyed by the fire, was the original church built 75 years ago.

The cause of the fire has not been determined. During the evening a Father and Sons banquet had been held in the basement of the Parish House, following which there was a demonstration by the State Guard in the main hall. At that time a sound like an explosion was heard which was thought to have come from the heating system but investigation showed nothing amiss.

The ruins were inspected the following morning by State Detective Edward P. O'Neil of the State Fire Marshal's Office accompanied by Fire Chief John L. Keating but all they were prepared to state at the time was that the blaze evidently started in a wash room on the first floor.

During the fire hot coffee was served to the firemen by a Red Cross Canteen. The coffee was prepared at the Brae Burn Country Club by Canteen workers and personnel and equipment was furnished by the Red Cross Motor Corps.

Rev. Richard P. McClintock, rector of the Church of the Messiah has been offered the use of the Centenary Methodist Church, Auburndale, for his parishioners by the pastor, Rev. Stephen J. Callender.

Newton High

Newton High's senior play is destined to be an overwhelming success. Not only is the cast working under a terrific schedule every school day including Saturday, but the whole school has combined in one solid effort to close this year's play "Stage Door," with a bang! At every turn in the school there appears some reminder of "Stage Door," from lively posters on the wall to snapshots in the food-purchases of the lunchroom. At the Walham-Newton football game before the largest crowd of the season, the cast and all its workers were paid tribute by the students with a "Stage Door" cheer accompanied by a publicity stunt performed on the field. To climax this enthusiastic advertising, the cast on Wednesday morning gave as an appetizer a few scenes from the play. Already within the first several days of ticket sales more than half the seats are sold. So, buy your tickets now through any student or at the school directly. Come and see 18 beautiful senior girls at the "Stage Door." Remember! entrance by STAGE DOOR only!

Armistice Assembly

An Armistice Day assembly was presented to the Sophomores last Wednesday, November 10th. The speaker was given a call to colors played by Bob Weeks and Russ Cox, and the two flags were carried to the stage by a Boy Scout and a Marine. Howard Abbott then led the group in the flag salute, and Mr. Remley directed the singing of the first verse of "The Star Spangled Banner."

Under the direction of Mr. Remley, the Glee Club, in memory of those who gave their lives in the last World War, hummed a prayer, while the audience bowed their heads in silent meditation. For those who are fighting in the present war, the Glee Club sang two well-known selections, "This Is Worth Fighting For" and Gershwin's "Strike Up the Band."

Howard Abbott introduced Mr. Patterson, Commander of the Newton Post of the American Legion, for a bow, so that everyone might become acquainted with him. Then Mr. Green presented the speaker Joe Mitchell Chapple. Mr. Chapple imagined himself when he was a sophomore back in the little red school house, and showed us how he developed his personality through courtesy, calculation, and courage. He reminded us that we ought to decide what we are going to do in this world, just like he had to decide that he wanted to be a newspaper man instead of merely being a person with a name attached to him. He proved to us that to be someone, we had to have personality, and that it could only be obtained by the three C's: courtesy, calculation, and courage. He illustrated these characteristics with several notable people whom he knew personally. Among them were: Winston Churchill, Douglas MacArthur, Jimmy Doolittle, Eddie Rickenbacker, Amelia Earhart, William McKinley, Madame Chiang Kai-Shek, Clark Gable, Bette Davis, and even Mae West, who claimed she had "puhsunality."

After much applause and a curtain call of "thank-you," Howard Abbott dismissed the assembly.

Senior Dance

The senior dance started off with the usual bang of about five couples dancing, but finally the fair female forms snaggled their men so that more of the Newton High population covered the floor. Hosts and hostesses danced with latecomers to get everyone dancing to the sweet strains of Joe Beaugard's band.

Toward the end of the dance Mr. Green announced a grand march followed by a Virginia Reel "designed especially to put the students entered in with all good spirit, but still too many sat around watching the fun had by those dancing. What's the matter with those who don't participate whole-heartedly in the recreation offered by the school?"

Victory Gardeners!

Plan your 1944 Victory Garden Now!

Twenty million Victory gardens in 1943 produced 8 million tons of food, the estimated value of which was one billion dollars.

The government goal for 1944 is Twenty-Two Million Victory Gardens.

More Gardens, More Gardeners. A good reason why you should plan yours now. Make a compost of your dead leaves. Clean up, oil and repair garden tools. New spraying and dusting equipment will probably be hard to get, so clean the old ones thoroughly.

Re-arrange your planting on paper. What did you grow too much of? Too little? What did you plant too early? Too late?

Determine the amount of seed and fertilizer you'll need.

Don't plan to plant more than you can eat or can; and don't can more than you can eat.

THE DAIRY INDUSTRY

Some confusion has arisen in the minds of many consumers as to the cause of the present milk shortage.

This is due in part to the discrepancy between the published statements of the amount of milk available and the amount actually available for sale by milk dealers. In establishing dealers quotas the War Food Administration has allowed them to sell 94% of the amount sold during the week of October 30. This would indicate only a shortage of 6%, whereas the amount available for the general public is actually short approximately 15% to 20%.

The discrepancy arises from the fact that there are certain types of users which must be supplied with 100% of their needs. These include the Armed Forces stationed in this area, hospitals, schools and families with small children.

Leaders in the industry state that this condition is temporary and will probably exist in the months of November and December. The milk shortage is at a normal low for the year.

The responsibility for allocating available supplies among users has been placed upon the dealers and they have stated that they will make every effort to see that every customer is treated fairly and equitably. They pointed out, however, that families with small children will have first consideration, which means that the needs of other users may be curtailed more sharply.

Industry members stated that this condition could be such sudden in the early stages of limitation there were bound to be a few cases of drastic shortages, but under the voluntary allocation plan such shortages will be corrected in the near future.

To make the plan work requires the understanding and cooperation of every milk user and through such cooperation it is hoped that no individual will suffer any great hardship.

To Show Color Movies of Maine

Newton residents who have summer homes, or formerly resided in Maine will be interested in the approaching Mass-Maine event, when Neal D. Bousfield of Bar Harbor will visit Cambridge with his colored movies "The Cruise of the Sunbeam."

The Maine reunion, open to the public, will center at the vestry of the North Avenue Congregational Church on Sunday afternoon, Nov. 28 at three o'clock. Mr. Bousfield was graduated from the Andover-Newton Theological School and is the son of Dr. Cyril Bousfield, for 40 years a medical missionary of China. He is the present director of the Maine Sea Coast Mission, which was organized 38 years ago.

The gulls, light-houses and islands of the Maine coast from Calais to Kittery afford a picturesque background for the Mission program, which is one of the finest pieces of Social Service work of the Pine Tree State.

The afternoon hour was purposely set so suburbanites could easily attend and the location is on the trolley line, direct from Harvard to Porter Squares, leaving the trolley at Sears. Elizabeth E. Weber, 1735 Mass. ave., Cambridge, TEO 4912 is in charge of reservations.

EMPLOYEES OF THE HOOD RUBBER CO. PURCHASE B-2 LIBERATOR BOMBER

The employees of the Hood Rubber Co., Watertown, Mass., have successfully completed a campaign to purchase a giant four motored B-2 Liberator Bomber.

The campaign was started six months ago with a goal of $450,000 in War Bonds, sufficient sum to purchase the Bomber. The campaign concluded October 30 with a total of $459,000 in war bonds purchased by the employees of the company.

In recognition of this outstanding achievement, the Treasury Department, represented by Mr. Daniel J. Doherty, Executive Manager of the War Savings Staff, yesterday presented a certificate of merit to Mr. C. Lawrence Munch, president of the Hood Rubber Company and Mr. Salvatore Perocco, Business Agent of Federal Local 21917 A. F. of L. in presenting the certificate, Mr. Doherty paid tribute to the splendid spirit and enthusiasm of the workers in the company's Watertown plant, complimenting them on being the first industrial group in this area to purchase such a Bomber.

The Army, in recognition of the results of the campaign, sent four wounded service men from the Lovell General Hospital, Fort Devens to be the guests of the employees for the day. These men had all taken part in either four or five major battles in the North African campaign.

The service men, Pvt. Jess R. Fritz, Pvt. F. C. Joseph Dacerno, Pvt. F. C. Joseph Harris, and Sgt. Donald Van Valen, visited various sections of the factory talking to the employees, complimenting them upon their success in purchasing the Bomber.

Remember Me?

I'M THE BOY you used to know in Newton, the one who delivered groceries from your favorite store.

Well, I'm a soldier now—and darned proud of it. But it was tough at first. I'd never been away from home before and the going wasn't easy.

Then I found the USO! Believe me, that's the soldiers' friend. Easy chairs to sit in, coffee and cookies like Mother used to make, a place to read and write in quiet and to meet the same decent kind of girl I knew at home.

That's why I say we servicemen owe you folks a lot. You've made the USO possible. The dollars you give come closest to making a home away from home.

Keep up the good work, will you? When you're asked to give this year, dig a little deeper. I'm sure you won't let me -- or any of us -- down.

Supporting the USO is only one of the many things you do when you give to the United War Fund in Newton. That part of the money given to the National War Fund helps War Prisoners, Merchant Seamen, our fighting Allies everywhere, and brings hope to the oppressed.

But there is a home front that must be aided too. It is a battlefield all its own. Along with the Greater Boston Community Fund, the Newton Community Chest must have money to do the work. The ill, handicapped, the aged, the less fortunate—all depend upon your generosity, so do the health and welfare of many Newton boys and girls as well.

Remember these things when you are asked to contribute. Decide now to GIVE BECAUSE YOU CARE and GIVE regularly during 1944 to the

Warren Jr. High

Students at Warren are participating in a new Jeep Campaign sponsored by the U. S. Treasury Department. The Campaign covers the period from October 1, 1943, to December 7, 1943. The students decided to have as their goal the sum of $1,780, the amount needed to buy a field ambulance and a flying jeep or grass-hopper plane. Many rooms are sharing 100 per cent in the purchase of stamps and bonds weekly.

The Municipal Division of the Greater Boston United War Fund Drive, which started Nov. 4 and continues to Nov. 23, is represented at the Warren Junior High School by Mrs. Marion E. Koughan, Captain, and Miss Helen Russo and Mr. Carl M. Penny, Lieutenants. Members of Warren's faculty have annually contributed 100 per cent and have given very generously to the cause.

Eye witness accounts of the Battle of Salerno and of raids on Malta were given during a recent assembly by Staff Sergeant Wendell M. Poynter of the U. S. Air Force, a former student at Warren. Decorated with the Distinguished Service Flying Cross, one of the highest army decorations, and active in forty bombing missions over enemy territory as a tail gunner, Sergeant Poynter gave vivid descriptions of activities on the battle fronts. The students were complimented by the guest speaker for their War Bond and Stamp total of $5,814 since September and were told of the need for continued home-front backing by defense workers, Bond and Stamp sales, and blood donors.

Featured on the same program was the Junior Red Cross film entitled "Hand in Hand" which showed the various ways the boys and girls of the Junior Red Cross help to contribute to the comfort of our fighting forces and to the suffering children of our allies. Priscilla Clark and Joseph Branzetti represented the Junior Red Cross of Warren Junior High School at the pre-induction ceremonies at the City Hall on Oct. 14.

Mr. Charles B. Floyd, chairman of the Newton United War Fund Committee and president of the Newton Board of Aldermen, was the speaker at the assembly on November 5. Mr. Floyd spoke of the need for giving generously to the War Fund not only for our agencies at home but particularly to help the servicemen and our unfortunate allies.

The sacrifices of our servicemen were illustrated by Mr. Floyd in the story of Capt. James Bue, a former Warren student, who recently gave his life in the service of his country in the Pacific area.

A film, "The Greater Boston Story," which pictured activities of the agencies, concluded the assembly.

At a special musical assembly Mr. Paul C. Scarborough, principal of the Warren Junior High School, introduced Mr. James Remley, director of music, who outlined for the students the varied opportunities available for Warrenites to get on the bandwagon, "an unbelievably small expense." Mr. Francis Tower explained the types of instruments exhibited on the stage and Mr. Remley then presented three of the private music teachers who assist in developing skilled players for school musical organizations.

Mrs. Margaret Estaver played two violin solos, Fritz Kreisler's Prelude and Mozart's Dutch Dance, with Mrs. Kirtley Mather as piano accompanist. Miss Norma Olson, played two cello numbers, Melody by Faure and Spinning Song by Pepper. Mr. Vincent Marotto, teacher of woodwind instruments, played Sonambula by Thornton as his clarinet solo and Valse Sonia as a saxophone solo. Miss Olson and Mr. Marotto were accompanied by Miss Alice Philbrick, music instructor at Warren.

Day Jr. High

The Ninth Grade rally, held during the assembly period, ended the close of American Education Week at the Frank A. Day Junior High School. Since one of the aims of the school is to educate for life in a Democracy, it seemed especially fitting to have the Ninth Grade candidates for class offices present their qualifications at this time.

The orchestra under the direction of Mr. Vincent Jurglewicz furnished the music for the rally. Following the rally, an election was held and the following officers were chosen: President, Robert Todd; Vice President, James Bonnar; Secretary, James Tuttle; Treasurer, John Chase.

Mr. Frank Tanner of the Social Studies Department was in charge of the rally and election. There is an important visitor in school—Mr. Day V. Duck. He makes his headquarters on the bulletin board in the main corridor. He is especially interested in the progress being made by the boys and girls in their campaign to "buy" an amphibian jeep or "Quack." Each Wednesday after the War Stamp and Bond sale, his costume becomes more colorful and the students can see by observing Mr. Duck just how near they are to achieving their goal of $2090. This week $976.45 worth of Stamps and Bonds gave our distinguished guest a bright red coat. Total purchases for the first two weeks of the drive are $1316.20. Mr. Duck is a creation of John and Lubin Doucette of Grade Eight.

During Art Week, Nov. 1-5, there was an exhibition of all paintings and water color sketches in the office corridor and the library. The pictures were the work of parents and friends of the school who were invited to exhibit their work. Miss Hattie Hinckley of the Art Department was in charge of the display. Much interest was shown in the collection which included:

1. Eight water colors of scenes in China painted by Mrs. William Strong and brought in by Robert Cunniff.
2. Two portraits and one landscape in water color by Mrs. Robert Spencer brought in by her daughter Julia.
3. One still life water color by Mrs. Levinson which was contributed by Ann Shriberg.
4. Two water color scenes by Mrs. Louis Peters—brought in by Bruce Peters.
5. An oil painting "Boots at Wharf" by Mr. Fred H. Daniels—contributed by William Underhill.
6. Oil painting "Children at the Beach" by Mr. Carl Cutler brought in by Edward Parsons.
7. A sculptured quartz cat by Mr. Charles Cutler, a former pupil.
8. An oil painting, "Collecting Sap in Vermont" by Mr. James Bonnar, father of James Bonnar.

CHURCH GROUP PRESENTS PAGEANT OF WEDDING GOWNS

The assembly Hall of the Newtonville Methodist Church which was decorated with chrysanthemums and ferns was the scene of a most interesting entertainment on Friday evening when Group six from the Woman's Society of Christian Service, Mrs. William Mark, chairman, put on a Pageant of Wedding Gowns in which thirty-one gowns, ranging in ages from 118 years to the present time, were shown. The models walked down the canvas covered aisle to the Lohengrin Wedding March or other music, reminiscent of weddings, played by Mrs. Hamilton M. Gifford, pianist, and Mrs. Arthur M. Kreider, violinist. Mrs. A. Cheston Carter announced each "bride" as she entered the room.

Mrs. Genevieve Teeter Williams, the first to be presented, wore the wedding dress of Miss Marie Fullerton, who married George I. Goodhue Sept. 14, 1825. Miss Fullerton was the aunt of Mrs. Williams' husband, the late Arthur Fullerton Jones. Miss Helen Dolber was quaint in another very old gown, with tight fitting basque and high, boned collar. She carried a fan.

There was unusual interest in the wedding gown of Mrs. Leon Cheston Carter of Washington pk., who was married in 1872 and will celebrate her 95th birthday in January. Miss Louise Tripp was the model. Mrs. Edwin Irwin James of Mt. Vernon st., saw her wedding gown of corded satin with bodice basque with square neck, and lace trimmed skirt with long train, dating back to 1883, modeled by her granddaughter, Miss Lee Newcomb. It is interesting to note that a Boston store last Sunday advertised a wedding rayon satin gown which was an almost perfect copy of this one.

Six daughters modeled their mothers' wedding gowns. They were Miss Constance Ballou, daughter of Mrs. John R. Ballou, married in 1910; Miss Marjorie Ray, daughter of Mrs. William J. Ray, married in 1912; Miss Katherine Williams, daughter of Mrs. George F. Williams, married in 1915; Miss Arline Kreider, daughter of Mrs. Albert Kreider, married in 1916; Miss Shirley Bennett, daughter of Mrs. Lester W. Bennett, married in 1924; and Miss Mary Jean Carter, the youngest model, aged 11, daughter of Mrs. A. Cheston Carter, married in 1924.

Four former brides modeled their own wedding gowns. They were Mrs. Arthur T. Gregorian, the former Phebe Lynde Ballou, who made her lovely satin gown by hand, married in 1936; Mrs. Norman E. Lockwood, the former Grace Madeleine Taylor, married in 1937; Mrs. Richard A. Crain, the former Charlotte Quinlan, married in 1942; and Mrs. Charles Taylor Smith, the former Phyllis Petrie, married in 1943. Mrs. David Morris modeled the gown of her mother-in-law, Mrs. Frank Ellis Morris, who wore her paternal grandmother's petticoat at her wedding in 1907, as the "something old" necessary in every bride's trousseau. This garment with its shirring at the waist line and its flounce of handmade eyelet embroidery was also worn by the model.

Another mother and daughter besides Mrs. Ballou and Mrs. Gregorian, whose wedding gowns were shown, were Mrs. C. Herbert Anderson and her daughter Mrs. William Mark. The models were Miss Barbara Andrews and Miss Barbara Louise Reynolds.

The rather sudden change in the hem line of these gowns, which became much shorter and uneven about 1915, regardless of the length of the veil, was very noticeable. This style remained for some fifteen years.

During the evening Miss Harriett Rugg sang "I Love You Truly" and "Calm as the Night" and Mr. John Johannaber of the Boston Conservatory of Music played the organ two flute solos, "Concertino" and "Liebesfreud". The thirty-one "brides," who had taken their seats on the platform as they came in, left the hall to the strains of the Mendelssohn Wedding March. The ushers were Mrs. Earl A. Curran, Mrs. Fred Dodge and Mrs. Wilson J. Kuntz.

HYDE SCHOOL FLYING MINUTE MAN FLAG

Twenty-four Newton Schools now have the honor of flying the Treasury Minute Man Flag. The Hyde School was added to the list on Wednesday, November 10th, at an out door assembly and the exercises were conducted by the students, Stephen Hung acting as master of ceremonies. William Hattigan sang "We Are Americans." Dr. Homer Anderson, Superintendent of Schools told the children that there were three ways to help with the War, Service, Conserve and Save.

Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, chairman of the Women's Division of the Newton War Finance Committee congratulated the students on their having qualified with over 90 per cent in student participation which entitled them to receive the flag. The Men's Club of Newton Highlands gave the flag and it was presented by their President, Mr. Sidney Baylor and Merchantman Jack Robinson. Paul Rudnick accepted the flag for the school. Mr. Clarence Churchill principal of the school lead the band in their playing of patriotic music and Kenneth Morse bugler played to the Colors as the flag was raised.

Vote Protest Of
Bus Line Here

The Newton Board of Aldermen on Monday night voted to instruct the City Clerk to file a protest with the State Department of Public Utilities against the inclusion of Waltham Street as part of a proposed bus line for which the Middlesex and Boston Street Railway Company has applied for a War Emergency Certificate. The Board suggested that Waterdown Street be used instead for this proposed bus line which is to serve employees of the Raytheon Manufacturing Co.

The proposed route through Newton as specified in the notice received from the state department is:

"Via Washington street, Waltham street, Crafts street, Albemarle road, North street to the Newton-Waltham line. From the Newton-Waltham line, via Bridge street, California street to the Newton-Waterdown line."

Alderman Carroll J. Hoffman, chairman of the franchises and licenses committee in presenting the report of the committee on the matter, said it was the policy of the city to oppose the use by buses of streets which are not ordinarily used by them. He explained the reasons for this.

UNITED EVERY-MEMBER
CANVASS TO START DEC. 5

The "success" stories of Newton's first and second United Church Canvasses and those of other pioneering cities have turned an experiment in community action into a permanent formula for church cooperation and fund raising on a nationwide scale. This year when Newton conducts its third United Every-Member Canvass it will be joined by churches in thousands of other communities, located in almost every state in the country in conducting similar canvasses. Churches in many communities adopted United Every-Member Canvasses this year for the first time and others are considering.

The purpose of the United Every-Member Canvass is to bring aggressively to the attention of the community the importance of religious institutions; to call each individual to participate more actively in the work of those institutions; and to insure for the churches adequate financial support through regular giving. Richard H. Wright, general chairman for the 1943 Canvass reports completed plans for the December 5 Canvass indicate success.

Officers and members of the 1943 Canvass Committee are: Chairman, Richard H. Wright; Vice Chairman, Everett M. Brooks; Secretary, Kendall A. Woodrough; Treasurer, William A. Jackson; Samuel F. Appoint Three
New Teachers

At the meeting of the Newton School Committee on Monday night three new teachers were elected and the resignation of Mrs. Marion Gubellini, a teacher of the third grade in the Pierce School was accepted. Miss Anne Caldwell of Omaha, Nebraska was elected to fill Mr. Gubellini's place, effective, Nov. 29. The other two teachers elected are Freda E. Stevens of Alfred, Me., as a first grade teacher in the Lincoln-Eliot School effective Dec. 13 and Sally Tarbell as teacher of physical education in the grade schools. Miss Tarbell had been appointed a physical education teacher at Bigelow Jr. High "for the duration."

Raymond A. Green, principal of the High School and C. P. Birmingham, director of the high school placement office reported to the committee regarding the practice of pupils working after school hours, which with only a few exceptions has so far proved satisfactory from the standpoint of scholarship.

In cases where it has been found that the job interfered with school work, adjustments have been made at the suggestion of school authorities. In one or two cases where it was reported to parents that outside work had impeded progress in scholastic work, the pupil has been compelled to give up his job, and only in rare instances has a pupil been taken out of school to devote full time to a job.

The committee was informed that in view of the fact that many of the students have more money these days, some of the subjects taught in the High School have been revised to include instruction in "the value of money."

The growth of the practice of "after school working" has resulted in only a slight increase in absenteeism at school, the board was told. In a few instances it was found that students who have absented themselves from school on "sick pleas" have reported for work on the same days, using their school time to "catch up on their sleep."

The school authorities, as a result of the study of the situation, have arrived at the conclusion that 20 hours a week should be the maximum length of time devoted to after school employment by high school students.

One phase of school life that has suffered from the situation has been extra-curricular activities. Mr. Birmingham reported. He said that there has been a downward trend in club and other "after school" student activities. Principal Green announced that the privilege of leaving school to take "Christmas Rush" jobs ten days before the beginning of the school vacation will be granted only to students whose scholastic standing is satisfactory.

Vote To Rebuild
Church On Its Present SiteVestry Of The Church Of
The Messiah Makes Plans

A meeting of the Vestry of the Church of the Messiah, Auburndale Club, held on Wednesday evening, Nov. 17, at the home of Lawrence Allen, 30 Hawthorne ave., at which plans were considered for building a new edifice to replace the church and parish house destroyed in the recent fire. A 25 per cent increase in the missionary donation was voted and the Vestry decided to build a new church, parish house and rectory as soon as possible on the present site which includes the Whittemore property recently acquired by the church.

Sunday services for the present will be conducted at the Auburndale Club, Melrose st., Auburndale at the regular hours. Holy Communion 8 a.m., Sunday School at 9:30 and 11 a.m., and Morning Prayer at 11 a.m. Other church activities will be held at the homes of members or at the Methodist or Congregational Churches.

The Community Thanksgiving Service which was to have been held at the Church of the Messiah on Wednesday evening at 7:45, was held at the Auburndale Congregational Church with Rev. Richard P. McClintock, rector of the church of the Messiah, as preacher. The offering at this service is to be used for the purchase of a new lectern for the Church of the Messiah.

Rev. McClintock who is chairman of the new building committee stated that whether any part of the old church can be used for the new building will depend on the architect. Assisting Mr. McClintock on the committee are Lowell D. MacNutt, Edward T. Edmonds, Albert E. Everts and Philip R. Bridgman.

A letter sent to his parishioners by Rev. McClintock announcing where services are to be held pending the rebuilding of the church read as follows:

"The flames have died. The smoke has cleared away. The church we loved and to which we gave the last full measure of our devotion stands a charred and smoking ruin. So many material symbols of that sacrifice and service are no more that it gives us all an empty feeling in the heart. We were looking forward to great plans with our newly acquired property. We have lost so much. Surely our cup of woe is filled to overflowing!"

"And yet we know deep down in our hearts that in spite of the sadness of farewell, the Church of the Messiah never was mere brick and mortar, wood and plaster. The real church was in our hearts. A spirit of friendliness and cooperation that no material destruction could alter. A fellowship of prayer and worship against which no evil force can prevail. Our church has always and shall always be wherever two or three are gathered together in His Name!

"The Auburndale Club, in the spirit which has characterized the entire community, has offered us a home. Our Vestry has accepted this kind invitation. Our services at 8 and 11 a.m., and our Church Schools at 9:30 and 11 a.m. will convene in this building beginning next Sunday, Nov. 21."

"As we worship together on Sunday, let us thank God that no lives were lost in the fire and let us be more resolute with God's help to meet the challenge of adversity and to move forward to greater corporate service in His Name."

A far-reaching reorganization of the Guard, announced last week by Brig. Gen. William J. Newton's Community
Chest Goes Over Top

Total Of $313,541, Or $10,741 Over
Its Goal Of $302,800, Is Received

At the closing night meeting of the Newton Community Chest, in the Greater Boston United War Fund Campaign, reports were made by the division heads showing that Newton has received a total of $313,541, or $10,741 over its total goal of $302,800. Additional subscriptions of $34,794 were reported by the five division heads, and as only $24,000 was needed to reach the goal, the closing night meeting took on an air of celebration.

Charles B. Floyd, General Chairman, paid high tribute to the volunteer workers in the campaign this year and called attention to some of the outstanding features. He said that publicity this year had been excellent and that great credit was due to Nelson E. Hooper, Chairman, for the general publicity, particularly the household-to-household campaign, "We the People of Newton Have a Job to Do." He also paid tribute to the Educational Division, headed by Mrs. Gordon Morrison, who prepared the way for the campaign by booking speakers and movies at all meetings and events during the past two months. He extended thanks to the Women's Service Committee, who handled the supplies division, the courier service, and recording of pledges at the chest office during the campaign.

Prior to the final reports of the evening, Mr. Floyd introduced each money-raising division chairman. A blackboard on the wall showed the total subscription of each division through Monday noon, Nov. 22. Each chairman was asked to add to this total the subscription received Monday night and Tuesday and to carry out the figures for a grand total in his division. Daniel E. Watson, Chairman of Advance Gifts, was first introduced and reported a gain for the day of $3755 for a total of $135,158. Next Lawrence B. Damon, Chairman of Residential Division, reported $11,953 for a total of $128,095.

In the absence of Vincent C. Stanley, Chairman of the Manufacturing Division, H. J. Pettengill, Executive Director of the Chest, reported for this division $15,301, making a total of $23,713. Mrs. Mortimer Prescott, Assistant Chairman of the Mercantile Division, reported a gain for the day of $3256, making a total of $16,513, and A. A. Robertson, Chairman of the Municipal Division, added $319 for a total of $10,002.

Mr. Floyd praised each of the chairmen, pointing out that Mr. Watson's division, in spite of the number of substantial losses through death and removals of past generous contributors, had topped the $132,600 expected of him; that Mr. Damon's division had raised the largest amount of money ever obtained in Newton from the residential prospects and that he was amazed to learn that every one of the villages in this division topped 100 per cent of its goal. Mr. Floyd called attention to the splendid increases that the Manufacturing and Mercantile Divisions had made over last year and complimented Mr. Stanley and Mrs. Burkhart, Chairmen of these divisions, for the fine showing. He paid particular tribute to the grand job that the Municipal Division did in topping $10,000.

Following the reports, Mr. Floyd introduced Neil Leonard, President of the Chest, who took great credit to himself because he had discovered Charlie Floyd, who, in Mr. Leonard's opinion, has been the best Chairman of the Newton Community Chest Campaign since the Chest was founded. He predicted that the $315,000 raised last year would be exceeded when final results are in, and that Charlie Floyd would have the satisfaction of having raised the largest sum of money ever subscribed in Newton for any one cause.

Mr. Leonard presented to Mr. Floyd a silk flag, bearing the Star and Feather symbol with signatures of the many division leaders who worked under him. Mr. Leonard also paid high tribute to the Events Committee for the Opening Dinner arrangements and program, and presented to Mrs. William V. M. Fawcett, who had led for this division $15,301, making a total of $23,713. Mrs. Mortimer Prescott, Assistant Chairman of the Mercantile Division, reported a gain for the day of $3256, making a total of $16,513, and A. A. Robertson, Chairman of the Municipal Division, added $319 for a total of $10,002.

A military problem only you can solve

WHEN the committee of senators returned from their recent world tour, they reported that practically every soldier or sailor asked this question: "How about getting a job after the war?"

Actually, the answer to that question depends on YOU. For when peace comes, the amount of men that our industries can employ will depend on the amount of goods that you can buy.

You can save a soldier's job tomorrow by saving every dollar you don't need today. Buy War Bonds and add to your savings account.

Remember, too, when you spend less and save more you are helping to win the war.

SAVE YOUR PAPER AND TWINE

Every citizen who reads the papers knows something about the paper pulp shortage in the United States and Canada, due chiefly to labor shortage in our producing forests. Newspapers and magazines have been required to reduce their use of newsprint and new controls are frequently being issued for the purpose of further reducing the use of paper in order that a really serious crisis in stock reserves may be averted. The enormous amount of wrapping required for munitions in preparation for shipment overseas has made the brown paper shortage even more acute.

The problem is not so much that of having every household save its paper as it is of finding some workable plan for the collection. The recent Newton drive which picked up over 130 tons of paper was made possible only because of a recent proclamation of the Governor making it legal for cities and towns to spend money necessary to collect salvage indispensable to the war effort. The street department was thus able to make the collections, using the extra gasoline and paying the men for their seventh day of work. Street and Salvage Commissioner John Haughey says that the recent collection was most encouraging and that some way will be found to make future collections.

The Salvation Army, the Morgan Memorial and a few junk dealers are always on the job. Commissioner Haughey feels that what is needed is better planned collections, in order that gasoline and tires and the time of the collectors may be saved. Without going into all the very complicated details of the situation, these things are clear:

1. We should all save our newspapers in neat piles.
2. We should preserve all our cartons and other brown paper in separate piles.
3. We should not waste twine, as we shall need it to tie the papers into bundles when the time for collection arrives, so that the labor of the collectors may be reduced to a minimum.

A NEW CRITERION

"Through lack of any statement of aims, any effort to explain why we are in the war and what sort of a world we expect after the war, our idealism is completely misunderstood," said Senator Brewster, returning from his 41,000 mile flight to the battle and diplomatic fronts of the world. "We of this land don't know the face of life internationally." In this all-round confusion it would seem that we need some new criterion for understanding world trends.

Two school teachers were asked to lead a discussion group on international affairs. "One of our aims," they said, "is to give the women a true basis by which to judge future programs. For example, just studying Russia, England, or India politically will not be enough. Politics are practically always conducted on the GET basis—what can we get for ourselves. If we want a different kind of world after the war we must look at all these countries in the light of what they can GIVE to such a world."

Countries which, for years, have made selfish nationalism their policy cannot quickly understand a GIVE philosophy of life. The need is for some one nation to become a pattern for the rest of the world will instinctively want to copy. Why not our own? It is one thing, as Senator Brewster said, "to tell India about the American way of life, explaining about family life in the United States," but suppose a committee of Indians dropped in at the average American breakfast table or looked over our divorce and juvenile delinquency statistics.

Greater than any machinery, food, or natural resources we could give the post-war world would be the example of sound homes, successful industrial relations, the unity among our states and people—making the great American experiment work. This has been and again can be America's greatest contribution to mankind. This would be a gift every country would understand.

Every other nation has its own characteristic assets to make available to all—Great Britain's love of liberty and justice, China's deep family loyalty. These and other national qualities will be the material out of which a new world will be built.

Rotary Club

Dr. Howard M. LeSourd, dean of the Boston University Graduate School gave the Thanksgiving message at the meeting of the Newton Rotary Club at the Brae Burn Country Club on Monday at 12:15 p. m. Dr. LeSourd was introduced by Rev. Ray A. Eusten, pastor of the Eliot Church of Newton.

The meeting was under the direction of the president, Herbert N. McGill.

APPOINTED AGENTS

The New England Toro Company of West Newton have been appointed manufacturers agents for Eastern Massachusetts for the "Truck-man," a materials handling device used by warehouses and manufacturers. "Truck-man" is sold only to industries converted to war work.

In the receiving room, on the shipping dock, spotting loads in railroad cars, the "Truck-man" does the job quickly and easily. It has a capacity of 2000 lbs. and was designed for the rapid and efficient movement of loads.

Some of the New England firms using several "Truck Men" each are Ford Motor Co., Somerville, Mass.; Bird Machine Co., S. Walpole, Naval Torpedo Station, Newport, Col's Patent Fire Arms, Hartford, Wickwire Spencer Co., Clinton, Mass.

POLITICS WITH COLOR

By P. W. C.

Senator Burton

Ordinarily, a Sunday afternoon in the non-political season is the last time one expects to hear a masterful address delivered by a nationally-known statesman. That, however, is precisely what happened Nov. 21 at the First and Second Church in Harvard Square. Senator Harold H. Burton of Ohio, who has been mentioned in the column several times during the past year, was billed to give an important address on the topic, "America Looks Forward" at a public meeting sponsored by the Greater Boston Unitarian Ministry to Students. The church was packed and in spite of the fact that the meeting opened a quarter of an hour behind schedule and that the Senator talked for a full hour, you could have heard a pin drop most of the time. The exceptions were due to hearty laughs when the former Newtonian told a humorous story by way of illustrating some important point.

Now, it is not my purpose to give a brief of this address, vital as it was, because it would require too much space to do it justice. Suffice it to say that the Ohio Senator covered a tremendous amount of ground in his address to the earliest history of our country at the time of the Mayflower Compact and then traced the development of our government, our foreign policy and our entire national life from that time on. Quite naturally, he spoke of the recent Moscow conference, its profound significance and his hopes for the most intelligent approach that is possible to the grave problem of the eventual peace treaty which is currently worrying so many of our most thoughtful citizens.

Right here let me emphasize one of Senator Burton's most striking statements. After getting a prolonged laugh at his comment that it is "most unusual for the United States Senate to vote 90 to 6 in favor of ANY measure, but that it is profoundly significant that the Senate could vote 90 to 6 on such a crucial matter as the interpolation of a part of the Moscow agreement in a recent resolution," he passed on to his credo in connection with our constitutional set-up for handling peace treaties. He made the illuminating remark that it is quite possible, even if not probable, that eight per cent of the population of our country could over-rule the other ninety-two per cent. This is due to the fact that treaties have to be passed by a two-thirds vote rather than the normal majority vote. I gathered that the Senator felt that this situation should be corrected by an orderly amendment to our national constitution. The point he was making was simply this: our states are very unequal in population, but each state has the same number of Senators. Consequently, it is perfectly possible that the ONE-THIRD vote necessary to BLOCK a treaty MIGHT come from a lot of very small states—states so small that the popular vote they represented MIGHT constitute a mere eight per cent of the total popular vote. I submit that that is an intolerable state of affairs and should be remedied in some manner at the earliest possible moment. In the meantime, the public must be so educated to the vital importance of passing a proper and adequate peace treaty that NO MINORITY group in the Senate will dare to stubbornly block the will of the great majority of our citizens. That, incidentally, may be one of the reasons why the very smart Ohio Senator is currently devoting some little time to speech-making on this general topic.

Finally, may I make a prediction, quite devoid of all personality or friendship with Senator Harold H. Burton. This man has grown tremendously in stature during the past three or four years. He is NOT just another United States Senator. His relative youth, his engaging personality, his brilliant mind, his excellent command of English, his frankness and his natural tact all combine to present to the voters all over the country a man who may well be nominated AND elected President of the United States before another ten years pass by. Mind you, I say nothing about 1944. It so happens that Ohio has its own system of handling its favorite son situation. They appear to have developed perfect teamwork. At this moment, all Ohioans are sincerely plugging Governor Bricker for all they are worth. Presumably, they will continue to do so UNTIL and UNTIL it becomes evident that Governor Bricker cannot make the grade. After that, anything might happen. It is generally understood that NO man in public service would ever decline a nomination for the highest office in our country, provided that his health and strength permitted him to serve. I have excellent reason for believing that the Junior Senator from Ohio is no exception to this rule. Just remember that, if you will.

Congressman Herter
It is interesting to note that our Congressman from this district, Hon. Christian A. Herter of Boston has secured the backing of our Junior Senator from Massachusetts, Hon. Henry Cabot Lodge for his very important Food Stamp Plan. This plan is an alternative to government subsidies, as my readers doubtless know. Roughly speaking, the Herter-Lodge legislation would authorize the War Food Administrator to issue food stamps to be used to increase the food purchasing power of low-income individuals. I shall discuss the details of this legislation just as soon as it appears that there is some definite reason for believing that it may be enacted.

Our Vice-President
Please note that the Hon. Henry Agard Wallace, the fair-haired boy of the 1940 ticket, personally picked by Mr. Roosevelt, but more recently designated for political oblivion, has refused to be shunted one side and is currently engaged in a long series of speeches in defense of his pro-labor and pro-farm record. He still considers himself an outstanding apostle of liberal thought and performance. On that basis, he seems ready to challenge no less a person than the President of the United States. The latter is believed to feel that Mr. Wallace has outlived his political usefulness and should be shelved to make way for a more suitable running mate in 1944. Watch this situation closely.

Junior Mothers Rest Club
The Junior Mothers Rest Club of Newton Centre will hold the Dec. 1st luncheon and meeting at the home of Mrs. William Brack, 151 Ridge ave. The assisting hostesses will be Mrs. Henry Patch, Mrs. Basil Davidson, Mrs. Robert Cordingley and Mrs. Gilbert Ross.

—ON PAY DAY, BUY BONDS—

Washington — The Kilgore Scientific Mobilization Bill, designed to help small business to compete with the large corporations, is meeting with stiff opposition and out of Congress. The bill proposes to make new government discoveries freely available to all business. It would marshal out scientific resources on a co-ordinated basis instead of leaving it to large corporation agencies and a dollar-a-year scientists.

The lobby against the bill does not come entirely from big business, but from sources which stand to gain most from such co-ordination—the U. S. Army and Navy Departments.

The reason, in case you haven't already guessed it, is that swivel-chair generals and admirals, who in civil life were big business men and corporation lawyers, cannot change the method of thinking to which they have been accustomed. Yet these gentlemen know that with the exception of a very few large industrial concerns, business in general cannot spend the amount of money needed for large-scale study of scientific problems required in emergency periods.

We may well take a leaf out of Soviet Russia's book in planning science for war as well as peace. The Reds started co-ordinating their efforts in that direction several years before the war started. Today, so they claim, their victories in the field of battle are being won as a result of their efforts in the laboratories.

Brass hats and others concerned, check. The war is not over.

Listening posts in the United States are doing a lot of eavesdropping these days listening to Axis radio broadcasts. Out of the more than 150,000 words a day that sprout from these stations, plus underground reports from Axis-occupied countries, many deductions can be made with a certain degree of accuracy.

German morale on the military front appears to be still high although the same sources claim that the German people are definitely war-weary and disillusioned. They now realize that their 4,000,000 dead soldiers and sailors have been sacrificed in vain, and feel as they did in 1918 when it suddenly dawned on them that their war was lost. There is one difference, however. In 1918 the Kaiser's wartime regime permitted some freedom of speech and action. In 1943, under the regime of terror established by Hitler, the German people, as well as the conquered countries, even a popular remark overheard by Gestapo agents can mean instant death. The people are allowed no organization through which they can express themselves or attempt to take action. Fear of the Gestapo and the axeman is the dominant note of today's Nazi propaganda. Yet, signs are discernible inside Germany of a growing clamor for the head of Adolf Hitler. And despite Himmler's terrorism and the many executions reported daily, the time seems approaching when Hitler and his Gestapo will no longer be able to protect their continued existence with their own fast-waning strength.

WALTER PIERCE PREDICTS:
We will lose the peace if we assume that the Germans, once they have shed Hitlerism, will behave honorably. The bestial sacking of Rome is only another proof that they can't act decently unless someone makes them. Japan, as a civilian morale, like the Germans, is not unbreakable. In the end, the dull Japanese peasants will drive out the militarists who got them into the war. Even if Germany is defeated by next spring, a wide range of heavy commodities, such as automobiles, will not be available before 1945. Further co-operation with Soviet Russia will only be possible if our future envoys follow Donald Nelson's example of eliminating high-hat diplomacy with the Reds. In Moscow recently, Nelson won Stalin's friendship and respect by being down-to-earth instead of using the orthodox diplomat's double talk. The living quarters of more than 6,000,000 Germans destroyed by Allied bombs up to date will appear insignificant compared to what's coming in the next six days. Finland will try desperately as soon as it appears that there is some definite reason for believing that it may be enacted.

THE MOSCOW CONFERENCE
may have using relating to post-war problems, but it must also be understood that the Earl-Eden-Molotov talks were concerned also with the waging of the war itself. Quite likely plans were checked for the "big push" when the Axis will be confronted with the full might of the United Nations power. It is no secret that overwhelming forces of men and munitions are being readied in Britain and Africa for action against the Nazis. Over 2,500,000 land troops are now based on the British Isles alone. Over 600 warships of the American and British navies are concentrated in European waters. Approximately 7,000 bombers and fighting planes are waiting patiently in Britain to go to work on the "master race."

By every kind of logic the vast array of military strength as-tely to negotiate peace with Russia before December 6. Finland's Independence Day... Despite growing pressure by certain groups to crack wages and ceiling prices, the best informed appraisal is to expect a slight rise both ways... Individual income taxes will probably remain at 1943 levels... OVERHEARD: ... The French have suffered impoverishment at the hands of the Nazis to the extent that landowners will exchange a full-grown calf for a box of face powder. Through the underground, a letter reached America which provides this news. It also stated that when a friend of the writer had a baby he gave her his family's last safety pin... From the Pacific area comes a report that the Japs have a formula for "delicious" bread. It's made of 60 per cent flour and 40 per cent "edible earth" dug in Manchuria. And from Europe is another report that the Italian government of Benito Mussolini has decreed life sentence for those who spread false news "without a permit."

PENNY DRIVE

During the past week the pupils of the Hyde School in Newton Highlands have had a Penny Drive. The children were asked to make all purchases at the school, such as defense stamps, lunches, etc., in coppers, and in that way 3500 pennies were collected, to be turned into the bank to aid the government shortage. On Wednesday morning the School Orchestra played for the first time at the two Thanksgiving assemblies.

This WEEK, This WORLD

by Ted Friend

THE EGG-SHELL COLLAPSE of Italian fascism has betrayed a long and glorious tradition of structures which, when duplicated in the case of the Germans, will be ample proof that in spite of its bluster and conceit, dictatorship has little of substance in its make-up. Divested of the whip and the lash, fascism reflects only the will and interests of its own little inner circle. It is a gross mass of the body politic merely something to exploit and feed upon.

Mussolini took hold of the Italian people some twenty years ago. For twenty years he trained them, schooled them, scolded them, molded them, and repressed them. The Italian people, on Mussolini's urging, tried pathetically to become a nation of lions. To that end, paradoxically, it gave up its liberties and took the yoke. It made itself look childish parading hither and yon in gaudy uniforms. To its great admiration—and even amazement—it contrived a terminology in which questionable old things were called by new names. It made itself a wanton in international affairs. It stabbed its neighbors in the back. It played the bully with the weak and disfranchised. Finally it went to war—and collapsed!

To be noted is that Italian fascism did not cave in because of revolutionary pressure. It just folded up and died because of inner and basic inadequacy.

At present the Germans are making great claims of national solidarity—as did Italian spokesmen just before their demise—but the world knows better. It knows that the very same quality which made it possible for Nazism to fasten itself upon the German nation—i.e., weakness of character—will bring about its own doom.

Some day Germany will be unmasked as a whimpering, miserable, contemptible thing—because for all its spurious pomp and circumstance—that's what it is today.

Li. Colonel Everett Adrian Hancock died on Tuesday, November 16, at the Rutland Veterans' Hospital, Rutland Heights, Mass.

Colonel Hancock was born at Revere, Mass., on September 19, 1899, the eldest son of William E. and Mary J. (Orr) Hancock. Except for a brief residence first in Washington, D. C., and also in Somerville, Mass., the Colonel spent his early life in residence in the city of his birth. He attended the Revere Public Schools and graduated from High School in 1918.

He served two partial enlistments on Company D of the 15th Infantry, Mass. State Guard, including a tour of duty in Boston at the time of the almost forgotten Police strike. Between these two enlistments, he served in the Student Army Training Corps at Northeastern University in the autumn of 1918 until its demobilization in December of that year. Following that duty, he reenlisted in his old State Guard Company, serving therein, through the police strike with the rank of Corporal and Company Clerk.

In 1923 he graduated from Lowell Institute Training School at Massachusetts Institute of Technology and shortly after married Miss Thea Stewart of Somerville. From then on his residence was in Somerville until 1929 when he

The Newton Kiwanis Club was treated to a hearty laugh at the recent meeting on Tuesday, Nov. 23rd. Douglas E. Lenfestey, Advertising Specialist of the Wetmore Savings Company spoke to the Club and brought with him a suitcase full of what he called "screw-ball gadgets," with which he claims it is possible for anyone to begin to make his first million. Some of the gadgets showed real promise and conceivably might some day prove to be marketable; others were presented purely for the humor which they created. Mr. Lenfestey spoke about the amount of time and effort which is sometimes put into the manufacture of these "screw-ball" gadgets.

Turning from the demonstration of his gadgets to a description of some of the modern advertisements, Mr. Lenfestey showed a series of pictures taken from the present day magazines which illustrate the various approaches used in advertising today. His running comments about the absurdity of some of the modern advertisements called for a great deal of laughter.

Ben Louis explained that next week there will be an all-WAC program, with Lt. Olga Thompson returning as the principle speaker, together with a moving picture entitled, "We're In The Army Now." The Club very heartily endorsed the return of Lt. Thompson.

Ben Louis put up as a prize a fine turkey, which was won by "Perk" Perkins. President "Jim" Riggs closed the meeting expressing the Club's appreciation to M. Lenfestey for his interesting and entertaining program.

The song has been presented on a local radio station and thousands of copies have been sold. Mrs. Thornquist has stated that she has no claim to the title and had wanted to keep the song a secret.

Her son, MacGregor Thornquist, was in his junior year at Bowdoin College when he enlisted in the Navy in 1939. He was a member of the college Glee Club and the night before he met his death he had entertained his unit with his accordion at a remote base in Iceland.

plained that the Public Utilities Department has the sole power to grant a War Emergency Certificate but the city is given the opportunity to protest. In a recent case he said the city's opposition had prevented the use of Washington Street hill from Newton Corner to the Brighton line as a bus line.

Another application for a proposed bus route filed by the Boston Worcester and New York Street Railway Company was reported by the State Department of Public Utilities. This application was not opposed by the Board. The proposed route is from the Wellesley-Newton line to Watertown Street; Watertown Street from Washington Street to Walnut Street; Walnut Street from Watertown Street to North Street, North Street from Walnut Street to the Newton-Waltham line, and return via the same route.

A hearing was held on a petition for the paving and acceptance of Pond Street, Ward 1, near the Watertown line. Residents of the street spoke in favor of the project. The only opposition was from a property owner who has a lot of land on another street, the rear line of which is on Pond Street.

A favorable report to the Secretary of the Commonwealth was voted on the application of Nora Bennett, 89 Erie Avenue, Newton Highlands as an incorporator of the Baltic Evangelical Mission, Inc.

The petition of Mary A. Sweeney for four taxi licenses at 368 Centre Street, Newton was granted. Mrs. Sweeney now is the owner of the taxi business formerly conducted by the late James E. Buckley and plans to conduct the business in her name.

V. R. Grammont who had filed a petition to erect a boathouse at 280 Islington rd., Auburndale, on the bank of the Charles River, requested leave to withdraw his petition as the land is the property of the Metropolitan District Commission.

The board passed the following appropriations recommended by Mayor Paul M. Goddard:

$1,500 for insurance of city property; $1,400 additional for the Recreation Department for salaries of part-time directors; $2,760 additional for the Street Department for overtime work of janitor at police headquarters from Nov. 21 to Dec. 31.

The board also voted to approve the continuance of overtime work one day each week by regular and temporary janitors at police headquarters from Jan. 1, 1944 to the time of the passage of the 1944 budget.

Several mortgage loans granted by the trustees of the Horace C. Conant Industrial Fund were approved by the Board.

The board received from Mayor Goddard a request that they legalize the use of city trucks and employees to collect salvage materials and the use of proceeds from the sale of the materials for charitable or public purposes.

The mayor also asked that such use since Nov. 7, 1943, be ratified and approved by the board and that the expenditure resulting from such use be charged to the budget item of collection of rubbish and papers. By granting this authority as requested by the mayor the Board would make it legal to turn over the proceeds of the scrap drives to any agency engaged in charitable or public purposes.

LARGE GATHERING AT WEEKS' P.T.A. WELCOMES ANDERSON

Several hundred gathered at the Weeks Jr. High School on Friday last to welcome the new Superintendent of Schools to Newton to the community and to enjoy a program put on by the pupils of that School for the Parent-Teacher Association. It was one of the most successful meetings of the Association, which is the largest of its kind in the State with a membership totalling close to 600. The P.T.A. organization has been in continuous existence since 1931 and this year is functioning under the leadership of Henry S. C. Cummings of Newton Centre who presided on this occasion.

The pupils presented a typical program of their regular weekly assemblies and under Peter Theg, President of the Student Council, a twenty minute Thanksgiving service was presented. The group attending the meeting entered into the service in response to the reading of the leader and sang "America the Beautiful" and "America." Charles Cahill recited the speech of Wendell Willkie on Lidge in a most impressive way. The Glee Club of 45 voices under the direction of Miss Harvey sang "We gather together to ask the Lord's blessing." The program concluded with a piano recital by ninth grade Loraine Smith.

Mr. Cummings announced that the Community Chest had reached 86% of its goal of $302,800 and urged that everyone who could should participate in helping to raise the needed quota to put Newton "over the top." Attention was called to the good work of the Newton Community Council in its effort to plan for the day of demobilization and change from a war time to peace time economy—the problem of finding jobs, completing interrupted education, caring for those affected by war and the many personal problems requiring personal counseling. It was revealed that over 6,400 young men and women have gone forth from Newton in the service of their country, among whom over 200 are women, and that already as many as fifteen months are returning to private life after service in the armed forces who need the best we can offer in rehabilitating them into community life and normal living. It was stated that more than half of all those in the service were aged between 18 and 23, and that probably a third of those in active service are volunteers.

Mr. Raymond W. Blaisdell, principal of the Weeks Jr. High School, introduced Miss Eleanor Elliott, Supervisor of Art for the Newton Schools, who gave an interesting demonstration of the place of Art in the life of the Jr. High School pupil. On the stage were twelve students working at various drawings, some using the medium of crayon, some water color, chalk, charcoal, clay. Miss Elliott told how the pupils discover powers of creative expression. Art offers so many mediums and in the classes they are taught to understand the limitations as well as the possibilities of each medium. It develops a feeling of self-reliance, independence and judgment. It offers a chance for one to release his feelings, expressing attitudes and experiences in art. Working in groups one learns to respect the opinions of others and to develop ideas which carry over into the community. Tribute was paid to the teaching skill of the two Art teachers in the Weeks School—Miss Clark and Miss Andrews. In water colors one learns much about mixture of colors. With charcoal mural painting is usually employed requiring big broad strokes. In sculpture work one develops a big solid rhythm of figure. With crayon one tries to develop a feeling for composition and leads to use of oil as a tool. In poster work one learns to make it carry, to attract attention and tell something. The demonstration was colorful, revealing and educational. It is typical of the splendid foundation training given in our schools in its many other departments.

The Weeks Jr. High School Orchestra, composed of about twenty talented musicians, under the leadership of Mr. Parker, the Director of Music at the High School, furnished the music for the start of the program. It furnished just another example of the broadness of the educational opportunities offered through the public schools.

Attention was called to the Neighborhood Centre Dancing Classes being conducted by the City and in particular a class being held at the Newton Centre Playground House on Fridays between 7-9 for seventh and eighth graders. A very warm welcome was accorded Julius E. Warren who was present to introduce the new Superintendent. Mr. Warren has had a remarkable record in Newton during the last nine years in expanding the standards and educational program of the local school system and in pioneering in vocational, technical and pre-induction fields in keeping with the practical needs of our times. As an able administrator, a man of keen vision and outstanding personality he has given to Newton an enviable record of scholastic standards, recognized by authorities far distant from this community. Citizens of Newton were proud when he was chosen by Governor Saltonstall to become the Commissioner of Education for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. Mr. Warren stated in introducing Dr. Homer W. Anderson, the new Superintendent of Schools in Newton, that he was a man of competence, one who had left his imprint of successful leadership in many school situations in this country, and that not only do we need him here but he will bring to us the kind of leadership that is certain to bring continued achievement for the Newton schools.

Ensign Bevis, who is 23, was attending college when he entered the Navy.

The citation reads in part:—"Taking part in eight dive-bombing missions against heavily defended hostile shore installations and shipping, Ensign Bevis skillfully and courageously pressed home his attacks, despite severe anti-aircraft and fighter opposition."

NEWTON BLOOD FOR THE "KID NEXT DOOR"

"Keep Newton blood circulating," urges the Newton Red Cross which has set aside Monday, Nov. 29th, as Newton Day at the Boston Blood Donor Center. "It is the aim of the Newton Red Cross to match a pint of blood for every Newton man in the services," states Mr. C. Terry Collins, Blood Donor Chairman of the Newton Red Cross.

By donating a pint of your blood and an hour of your time, you can take an active part in winning the war. Perhaps your pint of blood may save the life of your son, or that of the "kid next door." No matter how much war work you are doing, or how vital to the war effort your job may be, you can still become a blood donor and have the satisfaction of knowing that part of you is doing a job for victory right at the front lines. Take the case of Mrs. Russell Grant, an active member of the Newton Red Cross Gray Lady Corps, who, besides her many hours of service at the Newton Hospital, has just donated her 8th pint of blood this year, thereby becoming a member of the "Gallon Club."

For the convenience of commuters, Red Cross volunteers will be at Newton railroad stations from 7:45 to 8:45 every morning during the week of Nov. 22nd to make appointments for Newton Day. During the week shoppers will find Red Cross volunteers in food stores in many of the villages between 9:30 and 11:30 to make appointments for them at the Collection Center. Appointments also can be made by telephoning the Newton Chapter House, Lasell 6000.

"To meet its heavy wartime burdens, your church needs extra support today"

THE CHURCHES OF AMERICA join hands to talk with the people of America

There are over 200,000 churches in America. In the emergency of war, as in all emergencies, these churches become of greater importance in the lives of millions of people.

To many of these millions it comes home, in troubled times, that it is not material things that nourish the heart, but things of the spirit—kindness, and love, and faith.

NEW FUNCTIONS, NEW ACTIVITIES

The churches cannot fail the millions who now need encouragement, comfort and faith, as they have never needed it in their lives before. So the churches have to take on new functions, new activities of many kinds.

Many of the millions who turn to their church for extra help, forget that the church needs extra help from them, too. The churches cannot meet the greatly increased demands on them, unless we in turn support them.

This fall, churches of many denominations, all faced with the same problem, have joined hands to talk with the people of their communities. Speaking as one in this way, they can more effectively put before all people the necessities that the churches face. They can let all people know that the churches are rising to meet their greater problems.

For this purpose your local churches, in union with churches of many faiths throughout America, have set aside December 5.

Attend your Local Church

Won't you, during this special period of prayer and divine worship, make it your resolve to attend your local church—and to pledge extra support to your church in meeting the heavy burdens which the war has placed upon it?

Won't you respond to this common message from our local churches, asking each of our citizens to find a way to give extra support to his own church in the greater needs of war emergency?

To Speak Here Next Tuesday

Miss Lillian R. Fletcher, Supervisor of Passenger Service, and Chief Stewardess of Northeast Air-

MISS LILLIAN R. FLETCHER

Lines, Inc., will be the guest speaker at a meeting of the Newton Highlands Women's Club on Tuesday, November 30th.

Few women are better qualified to discuss air travel and passenger service than Miss Lillian Fletcher of Northeast Airlines. After her graduation from National Park Seminary in Washington, Miss Fletcher obtained a wide experience as a specialist in hotel service. It was in this work that she first discovered her intense interest in the study of human nature, an interest that was to serve her in good stead when she later became a stewardess with American Airlines. In her four years with American she travelled hundreds of thousands of miles across the country on a career which was wound up by her marriage, a circumstance which made her resignation compulsory. She is now Supervisor of Passenger Service for Northeast Airlines. Ever since her first flight, Miss Fletcher has been an ardent aviation enthusiast—has never failed to believe wholeheartedly in New England's destiny as a great factor in international air transportation's future. In her long career in air transportation, Miss Fletcher has spoken to many and varied groups and has to her credit a great number of return engagements.

"What's Cookin' in Newton?" If you were thousands of miles away wouldn't you like to know? For details see next week's GRAPHIC.

been chairman of this committee for many years, a special award for meritorious service.

Awards of small Star and Feather flags went to the following chairmen: Lawrence B. Damon, for raising the largest amount ever subscribed in the Residential Division; to Robert Fifield, as Chairman of Newton Upper Falls, for being the first Residential Village to reach its quota; to Ronald Cordingley, Chestnut Hill, as Chairman of the Village to reach the highest percentage of quota; to Ted Oakley, Waban, as Chairman of the Village first to have each of his teams reach 100 per cent of their quotas; to E. Prentice Jones, Newton Centre, as Chairman of the Village to raise the largest amount of money and having the largest percentage of quota on the first report night.

An unusual feature of the campaign was that every Residential Village reached 100 per cent of its quota. Chestnut Hill led with 113 per cent, followed by Newton Upper Falls 116 per cent, Waban 114 per cent, Waban Hill 110 per cent, Newton Centre 108 per cent, Nantum 105 per cent, Auburndale 103 per cent, Newton Highlands 103 per cent, Oak Hill 102 per cent, West Newton 102 per cent, Newtonville 102 per cent, Newton Lower Falls, 100 per cent.

The Closing Night meeting took place at the Newton Community Chest Headquarters, 93 Union st., Newton Centre, and Chairmen, Captains and volunteer workers from every village in Newton were present in large numbers. In the early part of the evening, additional reports were received and during this period there were group singing and entertainment. Louis Zuckerman and Bob Gurney, Navy seamen, entertained with songs and piano novelties, and Howard Rich and Miss Ruth Perkins took charge of group singing. Sherbet and cookies were served to the guests.

Throughout the evening, there seemed to be a feeling of optimism well before the final reports, as all felt that, based on previously reported figures, Newton was going over the top. After the final reports, Mr. Floyd, Mr. Damon, and all the other chairmen received congratulations from the many volunteers who worked under them during the highly successful campaign.
